Plains Section of Canada;
Snow Falls
Winnipeg, Nov. 10.—Indications that

Death In Woods Leads To Trial

Attorney-General's Department Means B.C. Forests
Are to be Safe

Vancouver, Nov. 10.—Heralding a campaign to make the woods of British Columbia safe, the Attorney-General's Department has launched a prosecution for manslaughter against William Goodlet, an employee of the Dominion
Fish Hatchery at Rivers Inlet.

Teddy Roosevelt, an Indian of the Okefenokee tribe, was accidentally killed
October 19 at Quap Creek, which runs into Okefenokee Lake. Goodlet mistook
Roosevelt for a grizzly bear.

Partly concealed by a log, the Indian,
who was wearing a brown shirt, looked like a bear to Goodlet in the poor light of the woods. A coroner's jury exonerated Goodlet of blame.

On an information of Staff Sergeant
S. North of the provincial police, Magistrate H. O. Alexander has issued a warrant against Goodlet charging him with manslaughter.

complaint similar to the one previously kshaw, assistant district attorney in

COURT RULES LAND BOARD CAN BE SUED

Judgment on Important Points Handed Down by Mr. Justice Morrison

Rules There is Cause For Action in Rattenbury Land
Suit

There is cause for action in the Rattenbury vs. Land Settlement Board suit and the B.C. Land Settlement Board can be sued without a petition of right first being secured, Mr. Justice Morrison has ruled in a brief written judgment handed down on three points of law ordered by Mr. Justice D. A.
McMahon, to be decided before the action was started. The third point, of whether the Land Settlement Act is ultra vires of the legislative powers of British Columbia, Mr. Justice Morrison leaves to the trial judge to decide.

The written judgment, received in Victoria this morning, reads:
"In respect to points of law, one and two are submitted to me pursuant to the order of September 6, 1927. My answer is in the affirmative. As to question three, that I leave to be determined by the trial judge."

LIBERAL POLICIES SHOW B.C. WAY TO ADDED PROSPERITY

Pattullo Points to Government's Record at Liberal Rally in Vancouver

A. L. Teetzel Elected President of Terminal City Liberal Association Vancouver, Nov. 10.—"At the next election we are going to do in Victoria what we did on previous occasions. We are going to return a solid four members for the Liberal cause there, just as we are going to have a solid delegation of six from Vancouver," said Hon. T. D.
Pattullo, Minister of Lands of British Columbia, in an address last night at the annual meeting of the Vancouver Liberal Association, which was attended by more than 600.

"The people of Victoria, like those of the Province at large," said Mr. Pat-tullo, have come to realize the hope of this Province lies in giving united support to the new Premier, Hon. J. D.
MacLean. There is no one else to look to. The Tories are no longer split on the question of their own leadership that it would be impossible for them to undertake the responsibility of government. Moreover, they are totally without a policy. The Government has admitted the failure of its policy—which will bear any analysis. We have nothing whatever to apologize for and we can boast of our achievements."

Within the next two years we shall take that record in our hands before

CAROLIST LEADER IS NOW ON TRIAL IN BUCHAREST COURT

M. Manolescu, Former Roumanian Under-Secretary, Accused of Plot
Bucharest, Nov. 10.—With the courthouse here and the streets for blocks around under complete martial law and with armed sentries challenging all seeking admission of the Manolescu former Under-Secretary of Finance, went on trial to-day for his part in the alleged conspiracy to restore ex-Crown Prince Carol to the Roumanian throne.

In a small white-washed room, no larger than a Canadian schoolroom, 110 of Roumania's most brilliant lawyers and jurists opened their defence of the former official, who is specifically charged with endangering the security of the state by attempting to place Carol upon the throne, now occupied by his six-year-old son, King Michael.

COLONEL IS PROSECUTOR
The court-martial trying Manolescu is composed of one colonel as president, two majors and two captains, as co-judges, while the public prosecutor is a colonel. The court is presided over by

VICTIM OF ACCIDENT

JAMES BARF

City Building Inspector, who lay for an hour exposed to rain and cold last evening when he fractured his hip after a fall on wet ground. Mr. Barf is now at the Jubilee Hospital, where his condition is reported as satisfactory.

BUILDING INSPECTOR SERIOUSLY INJURED

James Barf Picked up After Hour's Exposure in Cold
With Broken Hip
James Barf, city building inspector, lies at the Jubilee Hospital to-day suffering from a fracture of the right hip and exposure.
He was found lying unconscious in the driveway at The Angela, Burdette Avenue, at 6 o'clock yesterday, one hour after he had gone to make an inspection in the neighborhood.

Mr. Barf was found by Major Roberts, a resident at The Angela, lying on the concrete driveway, cold and unconscious. Aid was summoned at once, and the injured man removed to the police station where first aid was rendered. At the station Mr.
Barf's injuries were found to include a severe fracture of the right leg at the hip. He was removed to the Jubilee Hospital, where Dr. Lennox attended.

Mr. Barf was unconscious again at an early hour this morning, but regained consciousness later, when his condition was reported by the hospital authorities as satisfactory. The accident which it is assumed was caused by a slip on a wooden siding
near the driveway.

Mr. Barf had only recently returned to the city after three months' leave of absence due to severe ill health. The weather was cold, and a slight mist which added to the injury of the fracture caused considerable exposure under trying circumstances. The prompt action of Major Roberts, placed Mr.
Barf in expert hands without loss of time, after his plight had been discovered.

Mr. Barf was unconscious again at an early hour this morning, but regained consciousness later, when his condition was reported by the hospital authorities as satisfactory. The accident which it is assumed was caused by a slip on a wooden siding

SILENCE WILL BE OBSERVED FRIDAY

No Bells or Sirens For Armistice Observance; 11 o'clock Service
The Armistice period committee today reiterated its plea that no bells or sirens be used in any way to commemorate Armistice to-morrow. By the courtesy of the Royal Canadian Navy and the 16th Canadian Scottish, buglers will be posted at important points in the city. When the time gun is fired at 11 a.m. these buglers will sound the last post and the citizens will be impressively reminded of the two minutes silence requested by His Majesty the King and by the Dominion Government.

At 11:02 the buglers will sound the "carry-on."
TO-MORROW'S SERVICE
The following programme has been arranged for the service to be held at the war memorial, Parliament Square, where the 16th Scottish will provide a guard of honor:
11 a.m.—Time gun fired. Sounding of Last Post. Two minutes' silence.
11:02 a.m.—Sounding of carry on.
Short prayer by Rev. J. S. Patterson.

Placing of wreaths at the foot of the memorial by Government representatives, organizations and others.
Continuation of the great silence, the House of Commons taking up, will not start to-morrow until 12 o'clock. Many members thought it would be fitting if the two-minute silence should be actually observed by the House of Commons itself, but as the members of the Cabinet deemed it proper they should stand with the King at the cenotaph during the great silence, the Speaker ruled the House should not meet until noon.

Sir William Joynson-Hicks, Home
Secretary, has decreed there shall be no radio broadcasting of the proceedings at the Cenotaph. The Home Secretary's chief reason for this order is that the "whole idea underlying these services is personal attendance," but obviously this is impossible as the relatives of the fallen soldiers unhappy-ly total several millions. Without including the aged and widowed, it is said was elected as governor of the bank for the ensuing year.

Bank of England Re-elects Norman

London, Nov. 10.—The directors of the Bank of England, meeting to-day, agreed to recommend that Montagu Norman, noted British financier, be re-elected as governor of the bank for the ensuing year.

INDUSTRIAL RESEARCH IN CANADA IS TO BE GREATLY EXTENDED BY NEW PLAN

At Federal-Provincial Conference Ottawa Government Announces Establishment of Central Bureau; Highway Construction One of Subjects Discussed by Provincial Premiers in Closing Hours of Gathering in Ottawa

Ottawa, Nov. 10.—It is expected the Federal-Provincial Conference will conclude its work here today. Premier Ferguson of Ontario and Premier Taschereau of Quebec will leave Ottawa this evening and others are to leave during the next twenty-four hours. Quite a lot of work probably will be left to committee to deal with during the next few days. This will apply particularly to administrative matters, which can be settled between senior officials of the Governments.

The conference this forenoon turns its attention to technical education and industrial research, and many of the speakers expressed themselves as strongly in favor of expansion along these lines. Several provinces were eager for the further development of technical education in agriculture
BUREAU PLANNED
Hon. James Macdonald, Federal Minister of Trade and Commerce, stated the Ottawa Government was giving the question of industrial research careful attention. He intimated there would be an extension along these lines in the form of a central bureau which would combine the functions of research and extension, as exemplified by the Bureau of Standards at Washington and the Mellon Institute at Pittsburgh. This bureau would be open for industrial study and would undertake the matter of standardizing materials.

Dr. H. M. Torg, president of the National Research Council, declared that if such an institution were established it would be a saving the nation equivalent in twenty-five years to the national

On the question of aid for high provinces, with the exception of Que-

TRUSTEE WALKER TO LEAVE BOARD

Popular Member of City School Board to Retire at Year's End
Walter M. Walker, popular member of the City School Board, has announced his intention of retiring from public office at the end of the year.
Pressure of private business will lead to his retirement, Trustee Walker told The Times last night. Mr. Walker has been a member of the City School Board for two years, serving on the finance committee.

TELLS OF CONVENTION
The Harrison Hot Springs gathering of the B.C. School Trustees was the most serious-minded convention—he had ever attended, Trustee Alex Peden told The City School Board last night.
Such business had been covered at the sessions, reported the Victoria delegate.

The question of the superannuation of teachers, it was represented to the convention, was receiving the attention of the provincial authorities, and was therefore not discussed at the sessions.
Other business transacted included provision for the 1928 convention, to

CLEARINGS GAIN $100,000 A DAY

Victoria bank clearings for the week ending to-day show a gain at the rate of $100,000 a day over the corresponding week of last year. The clearing house issued at noon to-day by the Clearing House show that the Victoria clearings for the week ending to-day total $2,869,000.

For the corresponding week of last year the total was $1,973,906.

REPORT OF NEW OFFICIAL RESIDENCE IN B.C. IS DENIED

Vancouver, Nov. 10.—An Ottawa
special dispatch to The Vancouver Province says:
"It is all chimerical," stated Premier MacLean regarding a report that he was working towards having the Government-General take up residence in British Columbia for a couple of months each winter. "That suggestion," he said, "was made when Lord Willington was out there and it was said by someone that I might be well to buy the Dunsmuir estate. We will think about things like that when we get more money from the Dominion."

KING IS TO PLACE WREATH TO-MORROW AT LONDON CENOTAPH

Brief Service Will Mark
Armistice Day; House of

London, Nov. 10.—(Canadian Press

memoration of Armistice Day, the House of Commons, which usually sits at 11 a.m. on Fridays, when only private business is taken up, will not start to-morrow until 12 o'clock. Many members thought it would be fitting

B.C. EXHIBIT TO BE BIG FEATURE OF TORONTO SHOW

Display of Western Products
Will Astonish Eastern Observers
British Columbia's display at the Toronto Winter fair, which will open on November 16, will be one of the chief features of that great national show, the Department of Agriculture has been advised by observers who have seen the provincial exhibit.

Every agricultural product grown in British Columbia is included in the exhibit which is being erected in Toronto now. It represents the most ambitious effort ever made by the Province to demonstrate the extent of its agriculture and the farming progress of recent years. From every district choice products have been collected, and are being arranged in exhibit form.

Dr. David Warnock, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, will leave here Friday for Toronto to represent the Province at the Winter fair.
"Those who have seen our exhibit
as it is being arranged in Toronto say it will undoubtedly be a leading feature of the whole fair," Dr. Warnock said to-day. "In it we have sought to display everything the soil of this Province produces, with a result which will be surprising to most people who see it."

ALBERTA IS TO PAY COSTS OF BIG TRIAL

Court Awards George P.
Smith $9,000 to Cover Expenses He Had to Meet Edmonton, Nov. 10.—In the Supreme Court here the curtain has been rung down on the action of the Province of Alberta against George P. Smith, following the decision of Mr. Justice Hyndman, who dismissed the plaintiff's action to recover $5,820 with costs.
The matter was investigated by a royal commission, following which definite charges were laid against Smith, Edsall and Jeffrey. At the preliminary hearing all three were sent up for trial and at the criminal trial
the prosecution withdrew its charges against Jeffrey and Edsall, while Smith was found not guilty by a jury. The province then turned to the civil courts, but the action, which was being given in favor of Smith and he was also awarded all the legal costs.

ICE CARNIVAL TICKETS GO FAST

Rotary Club Receives Enthusiastic Reports From Ticket Committees

Twenty-five boxes at the Ice Carnival have already been sold, the Rotary Club was informed at to-day's weekly luncheon at the Empress Hotel. Only forty-two boxes are available at the arena.

Ticket committee members reported on the hearty welcome accorded them on their canvass of the city. All were confident that the whole meeting accommodation will be sold out before the end of this week.

James H. Beatty told of additional items on the programme to be presented by members of the Connaught Skating Club.

The programme committee announced addition of a service club relay race to the competitions, with teams from all the service clubs of the city taking part.

A drawing for a box was arranged among the members and realized $34.50. The winner was H. E. Fletcher of Toronto, who returned the box for re-competition at next week's luncheon.

INDUSTRIAL RESEARCH IN CANADA TO BE GREATLY EXTENDED BY NEW PLAN

been given, but it had been discontinued. In the meantime, with the increase in motor traffic, the highways had become more and more a national undertaking, benefitting the Dominion as well as the provinces and creating a new system of trade and commerce. The construction of these highways was a heavy burden on the provinces, particularly the creation of these highways which were saving much money to the treasury by their taking the place of branch railway lines.

It was estimated $150,000,000 a year was being spent by tourists in Canada passing over the highways. Quebec did not ask for any assistance. That province had its own system by which the road were paid for on a fifty-fifty basis with the municipalities. The Government's share was taken from the proceeds of automobile licenses and the gasoline tax.

In the opinion of Saskatchewan, Federal subsidies for any purpose were objectionable and an encouragement to improvident expenditures and commitments. If money was to be spent by Federal authority it should be given without strings.

At the opinion of several speakers, a general revision of the subsidies might cover all of the proposed Federal aids referred to.

With respect to technical education, the consensus of opinion was that the grants made by the Federal Government for this purpose should be continued.

Many of the provinces had established expensive technical schools which must be maintained. These would suffer if the Federal grants were withdrawn. Several of the provinces strongly favored the extension of agricultural education as a matter of national importance and necessity.

In the opinion of Ontario, Federal grants of any kind should not be temporary, but should be placed on a permanent basis. That province advised a complete survey of the situation and a settlement of the question for a definite period of years. The problems of development were tremendous and the necessity for technical and industrial research could not be overemphasized.

UNEMPLOYMENT QUESTION
The question of unemployment relief was briefly dealt with, with the possible exception of Manitoba no speaker urging Federal aid in this direction. Several of the speakers felt unemployment relief on any fixed basis was simply an encouragement to unemployment. The representative for Winnipeg, however, cited the case of transients, unemployment was frequent, though labor conditions were fairly uniform. He believed that if the Federal Government did not undertake to bear any share in the cost of looking after these strangers, it should establish a depot for the relief of those who drifted in from the outside.

THE ESTABLISHMENT OF AN INSTITUTION for the criminal insane was advocated by Alberta, that province also taking a deep interest in technical and agricultural education.

SOIL SURVEY
The institution by the provinces of the Dominion of a soil survey was also advocated.

NEW B.C. ANGLICAN COLLEGE'S OPENED
Vancouver, Nov. 10.—Bright Autumn skies favored the formal opening ceremonies of the new Anglican College at the campus of the University of British Columbia at Point Grey yesterday afternoon. A special convocation was held at the university where the college was attended by Anglican people from many out-of-town points as well as by a large gathering from the city and suburbs.

The building is a glad surprise to and indomitable energy of those responsible for it," said Archbishop Matheson, Primate of all Canada, in making the principal address of the convocation.

New Zealand Trade Commissioner to Make Brief Stay

C. M. Croft, Canadian Trade Commissioner to New Zealand, will arrive in the city to-morrow morning at 7 o'clock from Vancouver for a brief stay before returning to the mainland city, where he will board the R.M.S. Aorangi next Wednesday to return to his home in the southern Dominion. Any local firms or business men who wish to interview or consult with Mr. Croft are asked to get in touch with the local branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, 1008 Broad Street. No set programme has been arranged for the visit of the trade commissioner, but it is very likely that an impromptu luncheon will be tendered him during his short stay here, so that he may speak to the assembled members of the local branch of the Dominion association. Mr. Croft will in all probability return to Vancouver on the midnight boat to-morrow, but will be in the city again for a few hours outward bound to New Zealand next Wednesday.

the board to improve it to the extent of $2 per acre within a year of receiving notice; a further $2 an acre the second, third and fourth years, and $2.50 the fifth and sixth years, making a total improvement of $12.00 per acre. The act provides for a penalty tax in case of default. With plaintiff not in a position to pay for the improvements, the penalty tax the land was forfeited to the Crown with the exception of two or three small pieces.

CLAIMS ACT ULTRA VIRES

Acting for plaintiff, H. A. MacLean, K.C., contends that the Land Settlement Act is ultra vires of the Legislature of the Province of British Columbia, for the reason that it is indirect taxation, provinces only having the right under the British North America Act to levy direct taxation, indirect taxation being left to the Federal Government. Mortgages and those holding land under sales agreement were held responsible in the instance. It is argued for plaintiff, this point Mr. Justice Morrison leaves to the trial judge.

Unstated damages and an injunction, an accounting and a decree judging plaintiff and all land of plaintiff absolutely free from all past or pending proceedings of the Land Settlement Board are asked for.

The defence set up by the Land Settlement Board is that the board, being a department of the Government, can not be sued by ordinary procedure in court as it is a department of the Crown and the only way it can be sued is by a petition of right first being secured.

Justice Morrison rules against the defendant by his affirmative answer to plaintiff's question on this point. On the second point, that there is no cause of action, he also rules against the defendant.

A. M. Johnson, K.C., is counsel for the Land Settlement Board in the action.

many sensitive bereaved ones would welcome hearing the commemoration services at the Cenotaph, but would find physical attendance too poignant an experience.

The arrangements for the Armistice Day celebration here to-morrow are on the lines of those in previous years. In front of the Cenotaph a hollow square will be formed by detachments of the navy, the army, the air force, the mercantile marine and associations of veterans.

Shortly before 11 o'clock the King, attended by the Prince of Wales and his other sons, will appear from the front door of the Home Office, which directly faces the Cenotaph. The King will place a wreath at the base and wreaths will also be placed on behalf of other members of the royal family.

As Big Ben strikes the hour the two-minute silence will be observed. The road traffic will stop everywhere in London, but it is not now enjoined that railway trains or water transportation will stop.

TO HOLD SERVICE
At the Cenotaph a short service will follow, conducted by Right Rev. A. F. Widdington Ingram, Bishop of London.

For the rest of the day and for several days following, special arrangements will be made for the orderly marshalling of those wishing to place wreaths at the Cenotaph. Special arrangements will be made to enable those who wish to pass from the Cenotaph to the grave of the Unknown Soldier in Westminster Abbey to do so without inconvenience.

Holders of war medals and other decorations awarded to relatives of deceased soldiers have permission to wear them on the right breast.

Thirty million poppies have been made in factories by veterans for street sale to-morrow in aid of the fund of the British Empire League, of which Earl Haig is president.

The London Daily Express has organized an Armistice Day rally at Albert Hall for to-morrow night. The Prince of Wales will broadcast from Albert Hall a message in keeping with the day.

The Bishop of London will lead in prayer after the rally. ### TRUSTEE WALKER TO LEAVE BOARD

be held at Penticton probably in September. The length of the Summer holidays was discussed, and a recommendation made that the period be shortened. A Provincial Technical School project advocated for Vancouver did not receive support. Municipal councils disapproving school board by-laws should put such measures to the people without comment, the delegates decided. The price of text books and other matters were also considered, stated Trustee Peden, who asked endorsement of a letter of thanks to the Agassiz board for its hearty provision for its guests.

TOURING TEACHERS PLEASED

Visiting English school teachers who toured Canada under the auspices of the National Union of Teachers, London, enjoyed their stay in Victoria. The school board was told in a communication from W. W. Gladstone, the secretary. The Canadian tour left memorable impressions, and the hospitality of Victoria would not soon be forgotten, replied the communication.

Trustees J. L. Beckwith and A. C. Pike raised the question of the sale of tickets in the schools. The policy of the board had been that children should not be asked to purchase tickets for this affair or that, on the ground that while some might afford the drain, others would be embarrassed. The board decided to have a report on the situation.

Trustee Alex Peden reported $447,944 as the expenditures to date, against which was set off receipts of approximately $120,000. The estimated receipts for the year are $140,000 odd, and this sum would be exceeded, it was predicted.

The board authorized the purchase of twelve music stands for the High School, covers for domestic science use and other supplies.

The board again expressed its appreciation of the work of parent-teacher associations, stressing the help these units were found in the work of the schools.

A MOMENTOUS ANNOUNCEMENT

HON. W. H. SUTHERLAND'S ANNOUNCEMENT that the Government will commence construction of the West Coast Road next Spring is the most important news given to the City of Victoria for many years. It was a matter of common knowledge, of course, that this project had been under active consideration by the Public Works Department for more than a year, and preliminary surveys were conducted some months ago. Detail surveys now will be undertaken, to be followed by the letting of contracts.

No other undertaking could be of greater benefit to southern Vancouver Island than a highway which will connect this locality with the West Coast, with its extensive fisheries and other resources. It is likely to have a greater bearing upon the prosperity of this community than any of us can envisage at this time.

Present communication with the West Coast is maintained by steamer service only, which, while admirably conducted, can not open up the district in the sense that a highway would. It can not give intensive contact with the hinterland and insure settlement. Everything will be changed by the coming of the road. The motorist will be able to travel from Victoria to Banfield in six or seven hours, while it will be possible to distribute freight by automobile throughout the whole area in a working day.

One of the first practical benefits that will flow from the opening of this highway will be the settlement of people on the areas which it will serve, and trading between the settlers and the merchants of Victoria at once will be commenced. There should be extensive lumbering and mining developments. We also may look forward to an increase in the fishing industry.

The future of this community is more a matter of the development of Vancouver Island than dependence upon the progress of the Mainland of British Columbia. We have sufficient resources of all kinds to support many large cities and there are enough on the West Coast to bring about a very marked expansion of Victoria and its environs.

We note with much satisfaction that the Minister of Public Works intends to set apart an area for park uses. This is of the utmost importance, since the completion of the new road, forming part of the transprovincial highway, will be a great attraction to tourists. It should be followed by the development of many seaside resorts. At the present time we have not an ocean-side resort such as they have on the other side of the boundary line. Many beautiful spots abound near Victoria and Vancouver; but people who come from the interior or from other provinces want to see the Pacific. They come from where there are plenty of mountains and there is nothing to them like a limitless expanse of ocean. They will be able to get all they want of it in a few hours by motor from this city when the road has been opened to traffic.

Under all heads, the decision of the Government to start the West Coast Road next Spring should be the harbinger of great things for southern Vancouver Island, and particularly for Victoria. It certainly will change completely the whole aspect of the West Coast and most of the area which lies at the back of it.

OUR LOSS OF BABIES

CANADA IS LOSING TOO MANY babies. This is what a recent report published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics tells us. It is set out that in the year 1926 the country lost 23,671 babies under one year of age, and altogether 30,973 children under five years of age. No less than 7,089 children were stillborn. This total loss, a great part of which is considered preventable, amounted to 38,062 deaths. In the same fiscal year, Canada received 37,569 immigrants from the British Isles. In other words, Canada's heavy loss of 38,000 infants more than offsets, in actual population, her entire British immigration.

In addition Canada lost 1,314 mothers in childbirth, or the high rate of 5.7 for every thousand living births. This is one of the highest maternal death rates among civilized states. That one province in Canada should show an infant death rate of 58.6 per thousand living births, and another the rate of 142.0 would seem to indicate how much of this loss of life is preventable.

In an effort to reduce this heavy and unnecessary loss in the maternal and infant life in Canada, the Canadian Council on Child Welfare, in co-operation with the provincial Health Departments of different provinces, has arranged for the free distribution of a series of prenatal letters.

These letters, prepared by a committee of physicians under the direction of the Child Health Section of the Council, give general practical information and advice on prenatal care, the necessity for which is so strikingly demonstrated by the above conditions. This service also brings the mother in contact with her provincial Department of Health, whose services in the way of the visiting-nurse, free literature, etc., are designed to give every possible aid to the prospective mother for the betterment of her own health and that of the expected child.

A service of this kind obviously must be extremely useful to mothers residing in outlying districts, often many miles from a doctor. It should be noted, incidentally, that these letters are printed both in English and French.

PENALTY KICKS

THE POINT ABOUT PENALTY KICKS in soccer football which was taken up by a correspondent in a letter to the Sports Editor of The Times yesterday should be noted by all enthusiasts of the game. Reduced to a few words, his complaint is that some players to whom the taking of the free kick has been entrusted deliberately have shot wide because they have been convinced the referee had made a mistake. In some instances, the writer of the letter points out, this action has been taken as an exhibition of sportsmanship and the player—who has actually ignored the rules—has received the compliments of his own side and those of its opponents. There is not a shred of sportsmanship in such a course. It is open defiance of a ruling given by the referee, who is appointed by his organization to take charge of the game. All referees make mistakes, and they always will do. To err is human; but that is no argument in favor of such a foolish course as that of which our correspondent complains. His allusion to the late John Lewis also should be noted. On more than one occasion that most famous of all Old Country referees has faced an angry crowd which thought it knew better than he did and demanded the respect to which his position and decisions were entitled. He always got it and the "kickers" usually wished they had said nothing.

CIVIL DISTURBANCES
From The Melbourne Australian

(Communists have been active in Australia recently.) Very few in Australia have any organization, if it lacked self-control or if it were sprinkled with fanatics, might prove more troublesome than the handful of loud-voiced persons whom it would aim at suppressing. Yet there have been occasions on which such a body might have given valuable service to the community.

THEIR FOUL FOOTSTEPS
From The New York Times

Mayor "Big Bill" of Chicago, now engaged in editing large consignments of anti-British hate into the public school textbooks, has a certain amount of common ground with the minions of King George whom he accuses of tampering with the school histories. Both exaggerate the effectiveness of textbooks in the promotion of hate or love. Both are guilty of paying the American schoolboy a compliment he scarcely deserves. American youth of the pre-college age must have changed remarkably from a generation ago if it takes the days history lesson much more closely to heart than it does its arithmetic or geography. A little too much concern has been displayed over the effect on English-speaking friendship of one-sided accounts of the Boston Tea Party and Lexington. Misunderstanding between the two countries can hardly be ascribed to reminiscences like "their foul footsteps' pollution" in a national hymn of which very few Americans know the words after the first line. On the other hand, it is not likely that Mayor Thompson will seriously affect American temper and policy by printing foul footsteps in capital letters.

JOTS FROM GEOGRAPHY

SITE OF CORINTH, richest city of ancient Greece, is found in a commanding situation, controlling the Isthmus of Corinth which divides northern and southern Greece. Located at this key point, Corinth was in a fair position to control all the commerce of the region, and the wealth she thus gained was supplemented by the manufacture of her own workshop—jewelry, bronze and woven stuffs.

Canadian Questions and Answers

THE CANADIAN WEST

Q—What are some facts concerning the Canadian West?
A—The Canadian West, as it is now known, has come into existence since Confederation. In 1867 it was still the Great Lone Land; in 1927 it is the Big End of Canada, the granary of the Empire and the last great farm in the world. Its population has increased from a few thousands in 1867 to 2,783,100. The gross agricultural wealth has jumped from a few thousands half a century ago to four billions. The land values of the three prairie provinces is estimated at nearly two billions. The Canadian West produces over one-third of the agricultural value of all Canada and half of its live stock value. The prairie provinces wheat crop returns are nearing the half billion dollar mark. The per capita wealth in the West was in 1921 $2,296, whereas it was $2,525 for all Canada.

The Shakespeare Memorial Theatre

(From The New York Times.)

Well might Shakespeare himself say to us, the Prince Hal of the nations, what Sir John Falstaff said to his Prince Hal: "A thousand pounds. Hal! A million. Thy love is worth a million thou owest me thy love." A million pounds cannot measure what we of America owe of love to Shakespeare, much less a million dollars. But this latter amount, which the American Shakespeare Foundation has undertaken to raise for the rebuilding and endowment of the Shakespeare Theatre with its Shakespeare Library and Museum at Stratford, should easily be secured in recognition of the filial debt we owe to the myriad-minded poet. Already this American share has been more than half subscribed. Mr. Rockefeller's direct gift of $250,000 to the British committee not being included. Seven thousand subscriptions have been received from Americans, but they must be only a fraction of the number who will wish to have part in this momentous, now assured—a monument not to Shakespeare (for he is, as the preface to the First Folio said, his "own monument") and need not ask for further room among the tombs of the dead, but to our own valuation of his "rich and varied lore."

It would be a proud patriotic boast if we could put America first in such an enterprise. An American is not less an American for appreciating the gifts that have come to us from all the civilizations that have been—most of all the gift of our mother tongue. Once a "despised island patois," a peasant's dialect, at Trevelyan has described it, it acquired "a grace, suppleness and adaptability" in those days when, banished from court and cloister, it was ignored by the grammarians. Later it was enriched by French words and ideas and entered polite and learned society as the English of Chaucer's Tales and Wycliffe's Bible "to be further enriched into the English of Shakespeare and of Milton." It was spoken in Shakespeare's day by no more people than there are men, women and children in this one city of the world to-day, and fewer could read and write it. It is now heard in every quarter of the earth and has produced "a literature which only that of ancient Hellas is comparable."

The million dollars which we are asked to give to this fund will, after all, be but as the payment of interest at a low rate on a debt that will grow with the centuries. It is, to borrow Shakespeare's own phrase concerning another obligation, "too little payment for so great a debt."

LIFE OF WITNESS AT TRIAL IS THREATENED

Los Angeles, Nov. 10.—Threats against John B. Nichols, former skipper of the liquor-running speedboat Jackie, as a result of his testifying for the prosecution in the trial of eight persons accused of being members of a huge smuggling ring caused Nichols to be placed under a special guard yesterday by federal officers.

Prosecution attorneys disclosed during the course of the trial that Nichols' life had been threatened as a result of his testimony in the case, in which he had been one of the defendants until the charge against him was dropped.

"You squelcher, we'll get you inside of ten days," was the message slipped into Nichols' hand less than an hour after he had testified against the men he said were formerly his associates.

CHARGE DROPPED
At the close of the testimony yesterday the indictment against one of the defendants, George Garvin, was dropped on motion of the prosecution. Government attorneys announced they would recommend a directed verdict of acquittal in the case of Marcel Delian, former owner of the Jackie. Delian pleaded guilty in another case in which his boat was involved.

The other six defendants in the case, which is expected to go to the jury to-day, are Marvin E. Schouweiler, said to be the directing genius of the

SS. CATALPA NOW LISTING BADLY

Second Attempt to Save Vessel Stranded on Sparrowhawk Reef To-day

Rocks Have Pierced Bottom, It is Feared; no Cargo Yet Removed

Vancouver, Nov. 10.—Pine weather alone will save the Ss. Catalpa, Union Steamship's coaster, lying stranded on Sparrowhawk Reef, near Port Simpson, B.C., since Tuesday.

Reports from the north this morning showed her to be in an extremely dangerous position. She is listed 45 degrees to starboard, water ripples over her boat deck and she is badly holed.

So precarious is the ship's position that since Wednesday no attempts have been made to board her. It is feared here that the rocks have pierced her second bottom for she is leaking considerably.

During the night the Catalpa's list to starboard increased. The sea was unusually calm. In the opinion of those on the scene even a moderate swell would have doomed the ship.

An unsuccessful attempt was made to refloat the vessel at high tide Wednesday noon, and another will be made at noon to-day. The Salvage Princess and the tug Cape Scott will assist in the effort to pull the Catalpa clear to-day, and owing to the position of the ship the operation will be fraught with considerable peril. If to-day's attempt is unsuccessful another will be made on Friday when the Salvage King arrives.

VALUABLE CARGO

None of the freight has been removed from the $300,000 steamer. It was stated at the head office of the company to-day, if the Catalpa goes to the bottom she will take with her thirty-five tons of ore from Stewart, as well as a few parcels of general cargo.

The second effort to lift the Union Steamship Company's vessel, Catalpa, from Sparrowhawk Reef, Finlayson Island, where she went aground Tuesday, will probably be made about 1:30 o'clock to-day, according to the local office of the company.

TWENTY-FOUR-FOOT TIDE

A high tide of twenty-four feet occurs at that time and unless she is moved to-day, the salvage work is expected to take considerable labor. When the vessel ran aground, the tide was just past the high mark of 23.2 feet that day and when the unsuccessful attempt to remove her was made yesterday, it was about 23.8 feet. Difficulty will probably result since the high tide will not lift her very much higher than at the time she ran aground.

In the position the Catalpa is lying on the south of Finlayson Island, she is to a degree sheltered from the ocean's force by Dundas Island, but with a good wind to whip up the sea her position would be treacherous. Weather reports from Prince Rupert this morning indicated a southeast wind at four miles an hour.

The Pacific Salvage Company's vessel Salvage King, Capt. J. M. Hewison, will arrive on the scene early to-morrow, the company is advised.

Prince Rupert, Nov. 10.—A. L. Clements, Union Steamship Line assistant manager, is here from the scene of the stranding of the Ss. Catalpa. The vessel is still hard on a pinnacle of rock and is taking water, lying at an angle of about 45 degrees. She has forty-five tons of concentrated ore which cannot be lightened owing to the pressure of water.

Stowaways Have Tragic Time on Munson Line Ship

Hoboken, N.J., Nov. 10.—The tragic story of four stowaways, one dead and another dying, was told when the steamship Western World, of the Munson Line, docked here.

The Western World left Rio de Janeiro October 12. Three weeks out, Thomas McGovern, chief steward, discovered three stowaways in the hatch. Two had managed to exist by helping themselves to canned goods stored in the hatch. The third was imprisoned by a bale of merchandise and was unconscious from hunger and thirst.

When revived, the man asked what had become of his companion, also named McGovern. A search was made for him. The body was found in the smoke-stack, burned almost beyond recognition. The two survivors were left with authorities at Ellis Island.

Lumber Schooner Loses 50,000 Feet When Tide Tips Her

San Francisco, Nov. 10.—Caught by the ebb tide while rounding Point Bonita yesterday, the lumber schooner Carlos was tipped to her side and 50,000 feet of lumber was washed overboard. Waves splashed over the deck, flooding the engine-room, and Captain Victor Westerholm radioed for aid. The schooner was proceeding through the Golden Gate under her own power, she was from San Francisco, carrying 150,000 feet of lumber. On the eve of her departure for a three months' tour of South American ports, Fred L. Decker, sub-manager of R. Grace and Company, announced her yesterday that a direct service from North European ports to the Hawaiian Islands will be inaugurated shortly. Three vessels, the Balboa, Canada and Buenos Ayres, will be chartered for the service. The ship was bound for West Coast ports, and was to be followed by the Western World, which is being chartered for the service.

THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATORY, GONZALES

AFTER SEVEN DAYS IN AN OPEN BOAT—Captain William D. Potter (left) of the four-masted Horatio Fox, thanks Captain Jacobus de Koning, of the Ss. Volendam, for rescuing him and eight of his crew from the open boat in which they took refuge when the schooner sank in a gale. After seven days adrift, the shipwrecked seafarers were attempting to sail their life craft into Bermuda when the out-bound Volendam, attracted by a flare, picked them up.

BETHLEHEM STEEL TO BUILD SHIP DOCKS AT SEATTLE

New York, Nov. 10.—Seattle is looking forward to the purchase of a twenty-acre site by the Bethlehem Steel Corporation on which new docks will be built for a new Western terminal for the intercoastal shipping activities of the Calmar line of that corporation. The first of the Bethlehem-owned ships have reached Seattle, the "Turkabout" point, and it is rumored that the company is prepared to make large expenditures for property and docks.

The Dimon Shipping Company has announced the purchase of two new ships, which will be added to its intercoastal fleet. The Calmar Line and the Dimon line are the outstanding independent shipping lines in intercoastal traffic. Reports that there would be a contest between them and the group comprising the intercoastal conference were denied, but the conference lowered its rate for the carrying of steel "to aid the American steel industry in its competition with Europe."

The progress of the Dimon and Calmar lines is indicated by the recent additions to their fleets and plans now under way for new terminals on the West Coast. The Port Commission of Seattle has also ordered work begun on a new terminal for intercoastal trade on the site of the 59-acre Eddy yards, comprising about twenty-six acres. The site was bought from the Shipping Board and about $6,000,000 will be invested. Construction of the new dock is expected to cost $1,500,000 has been ordered.

It is estimated that between 700,000 and 800,000 tons of steel are shipped West annually by the intercoastal companies, of which about 500,000 tons are from the United States Steel Corporation and 100,000 tons from the Bethlehem Steel. The Argonne and the Bethlehem Steel Corporation.

Contracts for the construction of new fishing boats for use on the West Coast, have been let by the Yoneda, Japanese builder, according to an announcement made to-day. The vessels are to be built by the Yoneda, Messrs. Taylor and Edwards, V.I. men.

Plans for the new boats call for a length of about forty feet. They will be powered with fifteen horsepower Kelvin engines supplied by E. B. Macdonald and that firm will superintend the work of construction.

B.C. BOYS PROGRESS WELL IN TRAINING

Six Boys From Province Are Aboard School Ship Conway

Vancouver, Nov. 10.—The six British Columbia boys who are training to become officers of the mercantile marine on the school ship H.M.C.S. Conway, are showing up splendidly. They are being trained by F. M. Hardie, cashier in the local treasurer's office of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Vancouver. The boys are from the following places: Capt. P. A. Richardson, D.S.C. In his letter to Mr. Hardie, who looks after affairs at this end, Capt. Richardson says that he hopes to get more and more boys between the ages of thirteen and sixteen from British Columbia and Canada generally. "The boys from Canada are showing up splendidly," he writes, "and should prove themselves excellent officers in the future."

The boys prove themselves splendid at healthy sports, and I am hopeful shortly of being able to put up a baseball team picked from British Columbia boys against one composed of boys from the rest of Canada," he adds.

In this connection it is interesting to note that the Canadian Pacific Steamships Limited give a limited number of scholarships to the Canadian Pacific Steamships Limited for a period of at least five years, which means that he can sit for his second year's certificate at the end of his third year of actual sea service.

WELLAND CANAL READY TO RECEIVE TOWERING GATES

Construction Work on Great Waterway Now Three-quarters Done

Through It Vessels of the World Will Be Able to Steam Up Great Lakes

St. Catharines, Nov. 10.—The great ditch is drawing on towards completion. Within three years—the Fall of 1930 is the latest estimate—the Welland Canal will be opened.

All that will then prevent the ships of the world sailing right up to the furthest part of the Great Lakes will be the few miles of the St. Lawrence river that need deepening.

Within three years great freighters, bottled up at present in the upper lakes, will be trudging across the twenty-five miles of the Niagara peninsula downward to Lake Ontario. The Canadian west's wheat crop of 1930 will be pouring into Lake Ontario en route to the markets of the world without having to be transhipped at Port Colborne or any other point to smaller vessels.

Those who wish to view the full marvel of the gigantic piece of Canadian engineering should see it some time in the near future when it is empty of water and still stands in all its colossal magnificence.

Roughly, at the moment, the new canal is over seventy-five per cent. completed. A great deal of earth and rock excavation remains to be done. Tremendous filling in of the sides to make wide embankments along the shores of the canal must needs be completed.

But the eight great locks have taken shape. The lilliputian work of thousands of men in the last few years has reared these giant gobs of concrete. Only a little concreting remains to be finished on lock six. Those preceding it and lock seven are virtually done.

And on lock eight at Port Colborne, which is merely a lock for keeping the water in the canal regulated no matter how Lake Erie may rise or fall, the concreting is going well for the end of the project to be completed by the end of this year.

LONGEST IN THE WORLD
This lock number eight, at 1,380 feet between the inner gates, is the longest lock in the world, being only slightly exceeded by the locks on the American side at Sault Ste. Marie, both of which are 1,350 feet long.

How near the canal is to being finished may be judged by a visit to Port Weller on Lake Ontario which is within a stone's throw of St. Catharines and is just along the lake from Port Dalhousie.

The long wharfage, the wide stretch of its long depth, would accommodate a big fleet of the world's biggest ships. The road on the west side is rapidly going forward. The east side is a nursery for trees which will be transplanted eventually to give the canal beauty along its length.

Vessels from all over the world already drawn in to its docks. They have carried the steel gates and other lock fittings which are now being placed. Yesterday a great dredge was spewing forth a mountain of sand which it had sucked up from the mouth of the Niagara river. At least, it looked like a mountain, but it was only a pile of sand. The dredge was spewing forth a mountain of sand which it had sucked up from the mouth of the Niagara river. At least, it looked like a mountain, but it was only a pile of sand.

The leaf is being built like the side of a dreadnought. On the steel frame is being riveted steel plates on both sides which will present a solid front to the bulk of water which will press against them. The approximate weight of each leaf of these lower gates when finished will be about 454 tons.

Eleven sets of these lower gates have to be erected, which includes those on the three sets of twin locks on the flight at Thorold—as well as eleven sets of the lesser upper gates.

SOON READY FOR ACTION
The installation of the valves and other incidental mechanical trimmings of this first lock have to be completed and then it will be ready for action.

It stands now a vast empty concrete bowl. Some day when it is filled to highwater level to a length over all of

Cancer Menace Is Clearly Stated

Dayton, Ohio, Nov. 10.—If cancer should change its attack to the younger generation it would wipe out civilization within two years. That warning was issued by Dr. Gilbert Fitzpatrick of Chicago, president of the Illinois Association for the Prevention of Cancer and a specialist of international repute, at a joint meeting of the Southern Ohio, Ohio State, and Miami Homeopathy Medical Societies here yesterday.

Keating

Keating, Nov. 9.—The South Saanich United Church was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding on Saturday evening, when Rev. M. W. Lees united in marriage Miss Sadie Coote, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles John Coote of Edmonton and London, England, and Mr. Ross Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Patterson of Tyne, Ireland.

The wedding was of special interest, as it is the first that has been held in the church.

Given in marriage by Mr. Alex. Patterson the bride was charming in a gown of ivory flat crepe, fashioned in cape effect with touches of silver trimming. The embroidered veil was caught with a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of carnations, shamrock and chrysanthemums. Attending the bride were the bridesmaid, Miss Sadie Patterson, and the flower girl, Miss Matilda Patterson, niece of the groom. They were both prettily dressed in pale blue, with lace trimmings and were silver handmaiden of ribbon in their hair. Miss Sadie Patterson carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations and fern, while the little flower girl carried a dainty basket of carnations. The hymn, "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden," was sung by the congregation, and the wedding march was played by Miss Alma Heyer. A reception for immediate relatives and friends of the happy couple was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Patterson, East Saanich Road. A three-tier wedding cake centred the daintily decorated table. The groom's gifts to the bridesmaid and flower-girl were blue pearl necklaces, and to the organist a brooch. Mr. and Mrs. Patterson left for a honeymoon in Vancouver, and upon their return will reside on James Island. The bride traveled in a gown of green crepe de Chine and coat and hat of least brown shade.

The Thanksgiving chicken supper and dance held by the South Saanich Women's Institute in the Temperance Hall on Monday evening proved to be as popular this year as last, and a large crowd was in attendance, many coming from Victoria and the surrounding districts. The guests sat down to supper at 7 o'clock, the tables being prettily decorated with mauve chrysanthemums and autumn leaves, and laden with many delicious foods, two sittings being necessary to accommodate the crowd. After supper the guests repaired to the main hall, and dancing was enjoyed until midnight to the strains of Ray Kinlock's three-piece orchestra.

The Keating basketball team will play three visiting teams in the Temperance Hall on Friday evening, November 11, the games to be followed by refreshments and dancing.

The Junior Institute Club of the South Saanich Women's Institute will hold the November meeting at the home of Misses Blanch and Janet Sherring, on Saturday afternoon, November 12, at 2.30 o'clock.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Patterson, Telegraph Road, on Saturday evening, when they entertained about thirty friends. During the evening Mr. McIntosh played several numbers on his dulcimer and refreshments were served by the hostess. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. W. White, Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. Cuthbert, Mr. and Mrs. Storey, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Patterson, Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. Hightead, Miss Jessie Rhode, Mrs. Ingram, R. Chapman, L. Sester, G. Stokes and Braden, Masters Roy Cuthbert, Norman Cuthbert, Storey, George, Sam and Alex Patterson, and Mesdames Maud Cuthbert and Tillie Patterson.

Thanksgiving service was held in the South Saanich United Church Sunday morning with a large congregation in attendance. "Let Us Forget" was the subject of a very stirring address given by the pastor, Rev. M. W. Lees. An anthem was rendered by the choir and Mrs. Travis sang a solo, "There Is No Death."

Mrs. Hightead of Somenos was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Rhode during the week-end.

Mrs. Hamilton and Miss Jessie Rhode, Central Saanich Road, have returned home after spending a few days with their sister, Mrs. Hightead at Somenos.

Miss Grace McCrimmon of Victoria was the guest of Miss Alma McKay, East Saanich Road, during the week-end.

Mr. John Richardson of Vancouver has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Richardson, Central Saanich Road, for a few days.

GANG IN IRELAND MALTREATS WIDOW

Poor Woman Stripped in Field For Entertaining Farmer

Belfast, Northern Ireland, Nov. 10.—A masked gang cut off the hair of Mrs. Mary McGinley, a poor widow living near Carrickmacross, on the Ulster border, stripped her of her clothes and forced her, naked and shivering, to kneel down at midnight in a nearby field during a heavy frost.

The gang menaced her with pistols and did not permit her to return to her house until she promised to let a certain farmer of the neighborhood call at her house again. Mrs. McGinley has several young children.

Chapter Distributes I.O.D.E. Calendars as Armistice Tokens

In commemoration of the Armistice Period the Harvey-Boggs Chapter, I.O.D.E., at its meeting last evening decided to send I.O.D.E. calendars to the University School, Cedar Hill School and Victoria West School. The chapter has now completed its per capita quota towards the War Memorial fund of the order. This was made possible as a result of the silver tea given by Mrs. A. E. Beasley and her committee at her home on October 26, and by Mrs. Blake who also lent her home for a silver tea. The chapter gave a standing vote of thanks to the chapter for their assistance. A home-cooking table is arranged for November 26, at a time and place to be announced later.

Before the opening of the usual routine business the chapter passed a standing vote of sympathy to Miss A. B. Cooke in her sad bereavement.

St. Andrew's Bazaar.—The Women's Guild of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church are busy preparing for their annual bazaar, which is to be held in the schoolroom on the corner of Broughton Street, on the afternoon of December 3. They promise many new features this year.

THE DIFFICULT FEEDING PROBLEM

"I wonder if you can help me with my problem of trying to get my little girl to eat," writes Mrs. W. Z. She is two years old and about as fat as a pig on milk, and a feeding of cereal. No matter what kind of vegetable or soup I give her, she will take a few spoonfuls and refuse more. I have been giving her more outdoor exercise and has given her a medicine which did not affect her appetite. I worry for fear she won't get sufficient time and minerals. She walked early and has all of her teeth. My friends say for me not to worry so long as she has one quart of milk a day. She weighs twenty-five pounds. Books like Butterball and is lively as a cricket. Her lack of appetite is my one worry.

"I did not eat vegetables until twenty years of age, and I suffered for it. I had rickets as a child and have always been anemic. At childbirth my spine was injured at the base, due to the doctor said, to its brittleness. Could this account to my baby later?"

ANSWER:—Invite a small companion to eat lunch with her. Choose a child who eats what is put before her without comment. She will be an inspiration and a model for imitation. Some of these methods should help you overcome the difficulty.

The milk is the food which insures the child being adequate when all other elements are present also.

Sometimes a child will be stimulated to eat more food if only one-half the amount of milk is given as a beverage and the other half in combination with solid foods.

Say little or nothing about the child's lack of appetite. Offer the vegetables twice a day in combination with the milk. Use some new china for the vegetables so that they look and come differently, actually taste differently.

Keep her outdoors. Give her plenty of opportunity for rest. A tired child is always an appetite-less one. Let her help you cut up the carrots for her dinner, or wash the spinach. She'll like the finished product so much better.

AT THE THEATRES

GREAT RODEO STUNTS
IN EXCITING MOVIE
STARRING GIBSON

A rodeo in which hero, villain and other cowpunchers execute some mighty exciting stunts, is the highlight of "Painted Ponies," now showing at the Columbia.

Everything centres around this rodeo, with Hoot Gibson as an all-around champion disputing the claims of the villain who is the local champion. There is just enough of a story to hold the picture together and around the dramatic and emotional angles. It grows out of the fact that the rival champion is also Hoot's rival for the girl frames Hoot when her father is shot.

There is a touch of novelty to some of the earlier scenes in which Hoot, after becoming interested in the girl, gets the cowpunchers aboard a merry-go-round that she is operating and runs it so fast that they are all thrown off. This has its comedy twist when the sheriff wants to arrest the reeling boys for intoxication.

With its chase after the villain, the kidnapping of the girl, her rescue by the hero, etc., there are many of the old-standards of the usual western in this picture, and it is the rodeo that is the main attraction. Not only is there more of it, but it is better handled than usual and the bull-dogging, broncriding, steer catching, etc., are sure to give the action lovers some real thrills. In the bronc race and other events Hoot again demonstrates that he is no mere drugstore cowboy. The stunt stuff, coupled with the star's genial personality, should make

INSURANCE TEACHES GOSPEL OF THRIFT

President of Dominion Underwriters Stresses Value of Insurance to Present Age

"The general public should understand that the insurance business is preaching in every home the gospel of thrift, time and money," said John T. McCay, president of the Underwriters' Association of Canada, in his address before the Victoria and Island branch of the association at a well-attended supper meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce last evening. "This present generation," he continued, "needs mostly the habit of thrift. There are so many diversions and attractions that it is a hard matter to save to-day."

"We are tackling this present-day spendthrift weakness and the problem of individual thrift with an efficiency which no other institution competes and with results which justify our operations and encourage us to carry on."

"The young man carrying life insurance accumulated by his own personal thrift has endowed himself with character and credit which is reflected in the esteem of his commercial and social connections. It cannot be doubted—he is a better man for it. Life insurance is the foe of social irresponsibility, our greatest insurance to-day."

"We have made it our business to fight for the stability of the home, to provide for security of savings, for the establishment of good social, credit, and for the cementing of stable commercial credit. We constantly challenge, in seven and out, that all people should recognize, admit and safeguard their responsibility to the family, in the community, in the field of business and to the state."

"If the insurance men and women, in spite of difficulties, delays, depression in their daily labors, will hold on doggedly to this large vision, they will reap their reward. To-day the public have, generally speaking, a fair understanding of the great principles which animate the practice of the life insurance business. Mutual understanding has led to sympathy and interest, has dispelled to a large extent indifference, and during the past twenty years the resulting progress has been marvelous. It may be in some future, happy day that every citizen will carry insurance to the utmost."

"In that day, there will be no indigent widows, no aged or sick people dependent on state or personal charity, no children lacking education, social or commercial advantages. Business of personal credit will be sound and permanent, based on habits of thrift and responsibility."

Mr. McCay urged the members of the Victoria association to continue their gifts of thought, time and labor to the insurance business, which, he said, was one of the best expressions of the principle of thrift. The president of the local Underwriters' Association, J. R. B. More, acted as chairman, and at the conclusion of the interesting and instructive address, thanked the speaker on behalf of the assembled members.

LIQUOR MONEY WAS FOUND AT CITY HALL

Allegations Against Hoquiam Officials Heard at Big Trial in Tacoma

Tacoma, Nov. 10.—Protection money paid by the Grays Harbor liquor ring found its way into the Hoquiam City Hall and the United States Commissioner's office, according to the testimony of R. W. Mathis, former Oklahoma saloonkeeper, who took the stand yesterday for the Government in federal court.

Mathis's testimony mentioned four Hoquiam city officials and one federal officer and was the feature of the day in the trial of former Sheriff Elmer Gibson of Montesano and thirty-six others allegedly involved in the mammoth rum conspiracy.

FIVE YEARS' WORK

Other witnesses mentioned the name of an Aberdeen city councillor, the former city attorney and the county prosecuting attorney during an afternoon filled with testimony of the ring's alleged operations between 1922 and 1927 and the manner in which many of those who handled rum during those dripping years claimed they had been doublecrossed by the conspirators.

Martin F. Smith, president of the Hoquiam City Council and attorney for Arthur Sharples, city police officer, and other Hoquiam police officers indicted, declared last night the officials named by Mathis would be called to the stand as defence witnesses after the Government had concluded its case.

New French Scheme To Pay Off Bonds

Paris, Nov. 10.—France has learned how cleverly Premier Poincaré found a loophole in Washington's barrier against loans to countries that have not settled their war debts. The money to retire France's $70,000,000 eight per cent bonds, borrowed through the Morgan syndicate in 1920, is to come from Wall Street—at only a little more than five per cent—but it will come indirectly, through the Swedish Match Company acting as intermediary.

The Match Company, not having any war debt to pay, Washington naturally was not asked by Wall Street whether it would loan favorably on the loan. By retiring the eight per cent bonds that would have matured in twenty-five years, and by converting them into fifty-year five per cent bonds, Premier Poincaré estimates that, beginning in 1929, the French Government will save 50,000,000 francs a year.

The conditions under which the Government has arranged for the conversion of the loan were explained to the finance committee of the Chamber of Deputies last evening in a letter from M. Poincaré. The full saving will not show in the budget until 1929, because some of the money placed at France's disposal will be used in 1928 to retire the nine per cent loan floated in 1920.

ARMISTICE SUPPER HELD AT JAMES BAY

United Church Gathering. Enjoy Address by Rev. J. P. Westman

Outstanding success marked the annual Armistice supper held last evening in the James Bay United Church, two hundred parishioners sitting down to the attractive tables laden with good things gathered together by the energetic members of the Ladies' Aid Society. Effective decorations of scarlet poppies and evergreens were an appropriate reminder of the occasion.

On the conclusion of the excellent repast the gathering listened with much pleasure and amusement to the address given by Rev. J. P. Westman of the Centennial Church, whose subject was "Ireland and the Irish in Song, Story and Picture." Mr. Westman was assisted by Frank Tupper and Miss May Mason in Irish selections, with Ira Dilworth at the piano.

Rev. Thos. Keyworth, pastor of James Bay United Church, was an able chairman, and at the close tendered the thanks of the gathering to those who had contributed so much to the enjoyment and success of the occasion.

NEWS IN BRIEF

A Young Conservative Club will be organized in Saanich at a meeting next week. Details of the plan will be announced later.

Installation of artificial lighting in two basement rooms of Cloverdale School was last night awarded J. Jarvis by the Saanich School Board.

Dr. E. Newberry, of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, will be in the city to-morrow and will address a public meeting at the King's Hall, Yates Street at 8 o'clock.

In commemoration of Armistice Day, a service of Holy Communion was held in the Memorial Hall chapel to-morrow morning at 8 o'clock. The bishop of the diocese will be the celebrant. The service of morning prayer will be held in the chapel at 9:30 a.m. and evening at 5:15 p.m.

The Saanich School Board last night accepted a compromise offer from the British Columbia Electric Railway Company, to settle an account of almost $100 for current loss at Strawberry Vale School in September, caused by a short-circuit in the wiring system of the school. The compromise offer was considered very favorable, being less than one-half the account as originally rendered.

The executive meeting of the Britannia branch, Canadian Legion, British Empire Service League, passed a vote of thanks to all organizations in Victoria for refraining from staging any functions to-day, thus avoiding conflict with its annual poppy ball. The Britannia branch also desires to take this opportunity of thanking the other organizations for their cooperation and assistance in connection with the function.

The effective speaking group of the Junior Chamber of Commerce last night arranged to commence their activities for the development of public speakers. The membership of this group will be limited to twenty members at one time, and the work will take the form of a complete course in public speaking, commencing with a reading, and thence through the various stages of overcoming nervousness, correction of posture, modulation of voice delivery and criticism. An experienced instructor has been secured to direct and superintend the course.

ANNIVERSARY TO BE CELEBRATED

Special Services Sunday to Commemorate 42nd Anniversary of Centennial

Centennial United Church will celebrate its forty-second anniversary on Sunday next. Preparations are being made to make this event one of the most outstanding in the history of the church. The week is being set apart for the purpose of making preparations. On Friday evening the annual church social will be held. The young people are in charge of the programme and the Ladies' Aid will provide the refreshments. The purpose of this gathering is to get all well acquainted. The choir, assisted by musicians and singers will render a musical programme for the Sunday services. The addresses will be in keeping with the occasion. Centennial is inviting all former members and old friends to unite with them in this celebration. This church has occupied a leading place in the community for forty years and is now engaging the attention of hundreds each week for the mid-week activities. The church is in operation for seven days each week and has not a single evening that is not full of activities. Ten groups meet each week for study and recreation, in addition to many other groups that use the building. Those interested in basketball, baseball, football or badminton can all find a place of interest. It is the home of C.S.E.T. and C.O.I.T. work for the community. Parents can rest assured that all boys and girls who come to the building will be well cared for. There is always a leader on the floor to direct and protect. The classes open to all boys and girls who will fit into the programme. The doors are shut to none who will conform to the standards. The public is invited to visit the church on its anniversary occasion next Sunday.

This Older Boys' Parliament has been held in Victoria at the Provincial Parliament Buildings for the past five years, and is in no way a lack of parliament. It is held to enable those who are in it to present for discussion their own ideas regarding their own work, to decide what value these discussions have, and to share in the responsibility of the promotion of the programme which is being sponsored by the Trail Rangers and Tuxis Boys in the city and provincial Sunday schools, and in the Y.M.C.A. of the Province. It is really a step in a larger plan of training for self-government.

Hon. R. Randolph Bruce, Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, has promised to attend the sessions of the Parliament, and in all probability will perform the opening ceremonies.

WANTS NOMINATIONS

The questions that will go up for discussion at this year's sitting are not known yet, but it is expected that will be made public after the election for members. An attractive folder with extracts from the Parliament Act, the list of returning officers, the method of election and the qualifications necessary for election has been printed, and may be obtained from the boys' work secretary at the Y.M.C.A., who is very anxious to receive the nominations as soon as possible.

NATIVE DAUGHTERS HEAR GRANT FACTOR

Mrs. C. Peele Commends Work Perpetuating Pioneers' Memory

The responsibilities of native daughters in keeping alive the memory of the pioneers was the theme of an interesting talk given by Grand Factor Mrs. Clarence Peele of New Westminster before the Native Sons and Daughters of B.C. on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Peele referred to the restoration of the old Craigflower School, now being undertaken by Native Sons and Daughters in Victoria, and the unveiling of a cairn to the Royal Engineers at Sapperton on November 19 by the Native Sons and Daughters of British Columbia, as tangible evidence of the practical work being carried out in tribute to the sturdy men and women of a by-gone generation.

Mrs. Harold Beckwith, Chief Factor, was in the chair and new members initiated were Mrs. Emma Newbury, Mrs. L. J. Killam, Miss Frieda McDowd, Miss Jean Lorimer, Miss Marie Lorimer, Miss Marjorie Oliver, Miss Mabel Allen and Miss Mary Kieck. Arrangements were made to lay a wreath of evergreens and poppies on the War Memorial at Armistice Day. Reports were received from the conveners of the Halowen party at the Children's Aid Home, and letters of thanks are being written to those who assisted in the entertainment. A library committee, consisting of Chief Factor Mrs. Beckwith and Vice-Factor Miss L. Brown, was formed to make plans for collecting books of Victoria and British Columbia for the use of the members.

Miss Irene Terry has loaned her home, 1220 St. James Street, for a tea and sale of work to be held on Saturday, November 26, from 3 to 6. It was decided to hold a business meeting on November 22, and a Christmas tree party to be arranged by Miss Eva Mose, chairman of the entertainment committee, on December 13, and to cancel the meeting of December 27.

PLANS BEING MADE FOR FIFTH ANNUAL BOYS' PARLIAMENT

Boys' Work Secretary at the Local Y.M.C.A. Asking For Victoria Nominations

Fifth Annual Older Boys' Parliament to Sit in Provincial House at End of December

Preparations for the fifth annual Older Boys' Parliament to be held in the Provincial Parliament Buildings here on December 27, 28, 29 and 30, are now getting under way with the calling of nominations for members from the various registered and recognized Sunday school groups in British Columbia.

The Province is divided into twenty-three districts, each district having a returning officer who is to receive the nominations for members not later than Tuesday, November 15. Vivian Shookar, boys' work secretary of the local Y.M.C.A., has been appointed returning officer for the district of Victoria, which also includes the municipalities of Esquimalt, Mr. Shookar stated this morning that he would be glad to receive nominations from any registered or recognized group, whether business or social, using the various other organizations for their cooperation and assistance in connection with the function.

When all the nominations have been received they will be posted in public places within the constituency, and a day will be named for the election. The Boys' Work Board of the local Y.M.C.A. will meet on Friday evening to determine this day and other important matters connected with the Boys' Parliament. All members will be elected with the exception of the Prime Minister, who will be appointed from some member who sat in the House last session and who distinguished himself in some outstanding way.

Candidates for the Parliament must have attained their sixteenth and not passed their twenty-first birthday by January 1 of the winter in which the Parliament is held. They must be a mentor or member of a group registered and recognized by November 1, preceding the date of the holding of the Parliament. Candidates must be of exceptional good behavior, must not be addicted to the use of tobacco, liquor or drugs in any form, and they must be certified by the mentor or by a clergyman as a boy of high social character.

This Older Boys' Parliament has been held in Victoria at the Provincial Parliament Buildings for the past five years, and is in no way a lack of parliament. It is held to enable those who are in it to present for discussion their own ideas regarding their own work, to decide what value these discussions have, and to share in the responsibility of the promotion of the programme which is being sponsored by the Trail Rangers and Tuxis Boys in the city and provincial Sunday schools, and in the Y.M.C.A. of the Province. ## ROTARIANS TOLD OF SHAKESPEARE

Archibald Flowers of Stratford, Eng., Speaks on England's Bard

Archibald Flowers, chairman of the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre, addressed the Rotary Club to-day at the Empress Hotel, being introduced by Edwin Tomlin. Mr. Flowers recalled his last visit to Victoria in 1914, and remarked that "we have all learned a lot in the last fourteen years." He stated that, had Shakespeare lived to-day, he would have qualified as a 100 per cent Rotarian, having drawn from the whole world for his knowledge of humanity. "I do not know under what qualification he could have entered a Rotary Club, but his knowledge was so wide I am sure he could have qualified under a score of classifications," he remarked.

Mr. Flowers gave a number of instances of William Shakespeare's wide erudition. He pointed out that Rotary gives members opportunity to hear a wide range of addresses, and considered that Shakespeare could have spoken with authority on matters as far apart as law, veterinary surgery or religion.

Mr. Flowers recalled the flood of sympathetic messages from all the world which followed the burning of the Shakespeare Theatre at Stratford. He declared the best means of keeping green the memory of England's great playwright would be found in presenting his works frequently in all parts of the world, supplementing the policy of presenting Shakespearean drama at the splendid new theatre at Stratford.

Mr. Flowers recalled that, the night before the calling of Britain's general strike, the Shakespeare Theatre at Stratford had been presenting "Richard the Second." "Two lines in that play," he said, "Hath made a shameful conquest of itself,"

"had fairly hit us between the eyes," he said, and the high-spirited, blent with humor, where the general public met the menace of the strike and carried out the daily services necessary to the life of the people.

He closed with the hope that, within a short time, Victoria would have the pleasure of seeing a "rightdown good company present Shakespeare."

A meeting of service station and gasoline pump operators called for this evening at Temple Hall has been cancelled. It was announced by Alderman E. S. Woodward to-day. The adjourned meeting will be held on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

JUNIOR CHAMBER SEEK INVENTORS FOR MODEL DISPLAY

If Sufficient Material Can Be Gathered an Exhibition Will Be Held

The Junior Chamber of Commerce has been approached by a few local inventors, with the suggestion that an exhibition, displaying inventions and ideas be organized. This proposal is considered good by the Industrial Committee, providing it is possible to secure a sufficient number of exhibits to justify a public show.

Providing an exhibition of this nature is successfully organized, people with money to invest will be drawn into contact with inventors, with the probable result that the establishment of one or more new local industries may be the outcome. "The industrial section of the Junior Chamber recognizes that the products manufactured by all industries are the outcome of inventions, no matter how old, and that new industries are continually springing up in many parts of the world for the specific purpose of manufacturing new inventions in mass, and it would appear that a possible channel to industrial development exists through those individual inventors, either amateur or professional, who have cleverly thought out some device or model which would be of help to business concerns or the public in general," continues a report made at that committee last night.

"Even many minor ideas, which have not been considered worth while to patent, and which therefore have not been divulged, are presumed to be in the possession of housewives and others. Some of these ideas, although simple, may represent the base of a financial fortune for the originator."

"If the Junior Chamber can be instrumental in securing one new industry from such an exhibition, it would be a good stroke of business; in any case, an accumulation of model ideas is always interesting to the intelligent public."

"People with original ideas, inventors, and others interested in this proposal, are being urged to get into touch immediately with the Junior Chamber of Commerce," concludes the committee.

"People with original ideas, inventors, and others interested in this proposal, are being urged to get into touch immediately with the Junior Chamber of Commerce," concludes the committee.

Dundee Suspended Indefinitely For His Part in Fiasco

California Commission Also Takes His $5,000 Appearance Money

No Chance of Bout With Hudkins Being Staged Nov. 21; Promotor Loses License

Los Angeles, Nov. 10.—The final bits of wreckage of the Joe Dundee-Ace Hudkins fight flop were swept up and definitely closed away last night when Seth W. P. Strelinger, local member of the state athletic commission, announced his findings in the affair.

Strelinger's decision included: Suspension indefinitely of Dundee and the welterweight champion's manager, Max Waxman.

Dundee's $5,000 appearance money was declared forfeited to the commission.

The license of Dick Donald, the promoter of the fight which failed last Thursday night when the titleholder failed to appear, was automatically revoked with the cancellation of his lease on Wrigley Field.

NO CHANCE OF FIGHT

The commission's action definitely snuffed out the possibility of staging the Dundee-Hudkins fight here November 21 as had been agreed upon previously at a conference of Strelinger with Dundee, Waxman and Donald.

The athletic commission previously had placed disposition of the case in the hands of Strelinger and last night's action, the commissioner declared, made the fight fiasco a closed incident so far as the commission was concerned.

Motorcycle Riders Get Prizes Won in Hill Climb Monday

Prizes won at the Thanksgiving Day hill climb were presented at a meeting of the Victoria Motorcycle Club last night.

Amid many congratulations, Joe Wheeler, who rode the Indian Scout to victory in two events, was awarded a four-gallon drum of Mona Motor oil, donated by the Automotive Sales Company.

George Young, who took second place in the forty-five inch event and first place in the thirty-seven inch event, was the recipient of an inner tube donated by the Goodyear Tire Company and a pair of special handle bar muffs.

George Reece, who took second in the seventy-four inch event, will receive ten gallons of motor oil from Jones Bros. and Steve Dunsell, first in the sixty-one inch was awarded a leather helmet.

For his extremely fine showing with his small motor, the veteran, Jack Lake, was awarded an inner tube.

George Young Must Quit Swimming to "Rebuild His Body"

Toronto, Nov. 10.—George Young, Toronto youth, who swam to fame in winning the Catalina Channel marathon, has been forced to give up swimming for a year on orders of his doctor, he informed friends here yesterday.

Young collapsed during the Toronto marathon last summer. He declared his doctors must now "rebuild his body," adding "for the future no more marathons for me or long contracts."

Los Angeles Major Golf Event is Set

Los Angeles, Nov. 10.—Selection of the Wilshire Country Club as the scene of the third annual Los Angeles $10,000 open golf championship tournament, scheduled to be held over a three-day period, January 6 to 8, was announced last night. The Wilshire Club is considered one of the most difficult courses in this section.

The Canadian Scottish will hold a joint practice of all senior and intermediate players this evening at the Armories at 8 o'clock. The following seniors are asked to turn out: Farrar, Oliver, Henderson, J. Christie, Shaw, Radford, Stanger, Forbes, Hesselein, R. Christie, Thurburn, McGovern, D. Wilson, Pollard and Wightman.

The intermediates will play Victoria College on Saturday and the seniors meet the Wanderers at Willows.

TALK OVER RULES

Toronto Nov. 10.—The one sport rule, which was adopted at the Spring meeting of the Canadian Inter-collegiate Athletic Union was looked upon with assistance when reviewed at the Fall meeting of the union held in Hart House, University of Toronto, last night and it was thrown out.

Another rule which was adopted at the same time, that which curtailed an athlete's participation in any one branch of sport to four years during his college career was also discussed but it remains on the books.

To Discuss Forming of Hockey Leagues For Young Players

Amateur Hockey League May Attempt to Organize Intermediates and Juniors

Meeting to be Held To-night to Discuss Question; Need to Encourage Youngsters

To discuss the formation of an intermediate and possibly a junior league, the Victoria Amateur Hockey League will hold a meeting to-night at the Chamber of Commerce, commencing at 8 o'clock. The whole amateur hockey situation in Victoria was reviewed.

With the formation of the Victoria Ice Hockey Club the Amateur League will drop out of senior hockey competition. The only senior matches scheduled this season are those between Victoria and Vancouver, in the inter-city series.

HELP YOUNGSTERS

However, it is possible that the Amateur League will interest itself in the intermediates and juniors. A good intermediate league could be formed in this city as there is an abundance of young talent anxious to get into the game.

Should an intermediate and junior league be organized it would do a great deal towards boosting hockey in the city. Every year there is a clamor for new senior players. The only way to make sure of a supply is to bring on the youngsters.

Local Amateur League officials will get their heads together to-night, with a view to something new in the shape of an intermediate and a junior league may be announced.

Tunney to Create Rumpus If Rickard Managed Dempsey

Champion's Mental State Is Aroused Over Charges Being Laid by Kearns

Tunney Will Fight Twice Next Year, But Rickard May Not Be Promotor

New York, Nov. 10.—Gene Tunney is "mighty peeved" at Tex Rickard and is certain to "cause quite a rumpus" when he gets back to town.

That and no more would "Bully" Gibson, manager of the heavyweight champion say to-day in the absence of Tunney, now spending a few days at Old Forge, N.Y.

The aroused mental state of the champion was caused, Gibson said, by tales reaching Tunney's ears that Rickard is the "under-cover" manager of Jack Dempsey whom Tunney whipped for the title at Philadelphia last year and lost again in defending the crown in Chicago last Fall.

TO FIGHT TWICE IN '28

Jack Kearns, in his suit for $333,333 against Dempsey, will allege that the promoter of the last two title matches has handled Dempsey's affairs for almost two years.

Other sources maintain that Leo P. Flynn, who managed Dempsey during the latter's comeback attempt, did so under the direction of Rickard.

"Gene will fight at least twice in 1928," Gibson said, "but not necessarily for Rickard both times. There has been no break between Tunney and the promoter. We have offers, backed by reputable sporting men from both Chicago and Philadelphia. Gene may take one or both of them, but that will not be decided for some time to come."

McTigue May Have No Title Now But He Has Plenty of Money

Toronto, Nov. 10.—The veteran Mike McTigue, twice light-heavyweight champion of the world, and now a contender for the title again, is going to retire from the ring possibly in a year.

"I have been fighting for 'seventeen years," he told a newspaper reporter to-day on his arrival for the fight with Larry Gains, Canadian heavyweight champion, next Friday night. "I think I deserve a rest, don't you?"

Mike has made $394,000 with the padded gloves since he began fighting in 1910.

OUR MAIL BAG

To the Sports Editor:—In reference to a letter that appeared in last night's issue of The Times I may state that I am a spectator of football games whenever possible, and I should like to know what is wrong with our referees, for most of our football games seem such a very one-sided game.

Why cannot we have referees who are neutral? Is the game of the West vs. City, and there were five penalty kicks not given for the City team; the Thistles' goal against the City team.

Decisions such as these should not be tolerated and have been the cause of the ducking and mobbing of referees.

John Lewis never was unopposed, like to the effect that the operation was apparently successful.

MONEY OPERATED ON

C. Ernie Money, well-known local athlete, who was seriously injured last December in an exhibition rugby game with the Californians, underwent an operation in Vancouver on Tuesday.

Money was badly tackled in the game and broke his right leg just below the knee. The ligaments were torn as well, and he has been forced to use a bar.

When walking about, Dr. Gilles of Vancouver performed an operation on Tuesday which, it is hoped, will enable Money to get about without his bar.

A suture was taken from his hip and used to provide a support for the knee joint. Word received this morning by the parents of the junior athlete were to the effect that the operation was apparently successful.

HARMONY GIRLS WIN A Close Game From The First Baptists

The First United Harmony Girls' Intermediate basketball team defeated the First Baptists by the score of 20-16 last night.

Chess Match Drawn

Buenos Ayres, Nov. 10.—In spite of brilliant play by both Jose R. Capablanca and Alexander Alekhine, the twenty-seventh game for the world's chess championship ended in a draw last night after thirty-eight moves.

Two major pieces, a bishop and a knight and pawns had been exchanged. The twenty-eighth game will be played to-night.

HAS PROVED STAR IN FOUR MAJOR SPORTS

MORTON KAER

One of the outstanding football stars of last year, Morton "Devil-May" Kaer of the University of Southern California. He was practically a unanimous choice for All-America halfback. Since the close of last season, Kaer has been eagerly sought by a half dozen of the leading football teams in the United States.

However, he cares more for his amateur standing than the golden returns of "pro" football.

During his college career, Kaer was frequently described as the greatest all-around athlete in the world. His remarkable performance in various branches of sport richly earned the title.

Kaer is not enrolled in college this Fall. He is playing on the amateur football squad of the Olympic Club of San Francisco. He intends to return to a Southern California in February.

WANTS TO GO TO OLYMPICS

Kaer ran the low hurdles in 23.8 seconds last season. He placed in every collegiate meet on Southern California's schedule, except the inter-collegiate, where he was eliminated before the finals.

Not only does he expect to do big things in track for his alma mater this Spring but he also has his eye on the 1928 Olympiad.

He has three chances to make the team, for besides the pentathlon and quarter-mile hurdles there is the hop, step and jump in which he did 46 feet 6 inches last year in the A.A.U. meet.

Here is an interesting yarn in connection with Kaer's gridiron career. Speed being his greatest asset, he got away none too well in his sophomore year. He came into form late.

There is a story, that before a certain important game, feeling he had been a failure, he broke training by smoking several cigarettes prior to the kickoff. He got his chance in this game and was the outstanding star.

Rushing to the only man who saw him smoke, Kaer got him to agree to never mention the incident and from that game on Kaer was a sensation on the coast in football.

ROOETERETTE

INA WILLIAMS

The leader of the "rooeterette" corps at Southern California, is pretty Ina Williams. And how she does lead those Trojan reeds when the Trojans take the field! The "rooeterette" corps was recently organized and now struts its stuff at all big games.

CARPET BOWLING

The second round and finals of the Willows Club rink competition were played off on Thanksgiving Day. The games were keenly contested and witnessed by a large crowd of interested spectators.

The Roughnecks won the event. The results were as follows:

Roughnecks 16, Duncan 11. Die-Hards 19, Rose and Thistle 14. St. Mark's "A" 14, St. Mark's "B" 13. Whizbangs 14, Ramblers 11.

Semi-final St. Mark's "A" 11, Die-Hards 10. Roughnecks 12, Whizbangs 11. Final scores were: Roughnecks 19, St. Mark's "A" 10.

The Roughnecks were: F. Booth, F. Taylor, P. Oliver and F. McMillan, skip. The Whizbangs were: A. T. Wells, H. V. Hitchcock and W. Kirchin, skip.

Uplands Ladies Meet

FIGHTERS DRAW AFTER FURIOUS TEN ROUNDS

Detroit, Nov. 10.—Tiger Flowers, Georgia negro, and Maxie Rosenbloom, New York, fought ten furious rounds so a draw here last night. The men are middleweights.

Flowers scored heavily with a hard left to the heart in the early part of the contest. This was slowed down in the seventh when Rosenbloom upset him with a terrific hook to the jaw.

WOMEN AMATEURS TO CONSIDER WHAT SPORTS INJURIOUS

Toronto, Nov. 10.—The annual meeting of the Women's Amateur Athletic Federation of Canada has been set for November 25 in this city. Discussion will centre on which events are considered objectionable and injurious to women; the eligibility of girls under sixteen years of age; the proportion of track and field championship events that should be compulsory, and the question of sending a team to the Olympic games next year.

Major Hockey Teams Playing Exhibition Games With Minors

Kitchener Easily Defeated By Canadiens; Toronto Win But Chicago Lose

Kitchener, Ont., Nov. 10.—Scoring twice in each of the first two periods and adding another in the final session, Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League, defeated Kitchener of the Canadian Professional Hockey League 5-0, in an exhibition game here last night.

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 10.—Toronto Maple Leafs of the N.H.L. defeated the Hamilton team of the Canadian Professional Hockey League 6-4, in a pre-season exhibition game yesterday.

Hamilton led 3-2, going into the last period when the Leafs showed some nice hockey, netting four additional goals.

Art Duncan's defensive play was a feature of the Toronto team showing. Duncan for time being out on Toronto, owing to a salary dispute. Both of the Leafs counted three pretty goals, and Jerry Green, brother of "Red" and "Shorty," starred for the Tigers.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 10.—The Minneapolis Athletic Association hockey team defeated the Chicago Black Hawks, National League team, by a 1-0 score in the first game of the season here last night. It was a give and take game and the teams appeared evenly matched in speed and offensive manoeuvres.

Red Stuart, the new wing star, scored the lone tally near the close of the second period.

FACES CRIMINAL DETOUR ON FAST RIDE TO MAJORS

St. Louis, Nov. 10.—Chalmers Cissel, riding from the army toward the big league, with a speed with few equals on the diamond roads, faced a criminal court detour to-day.

A felony indictment based on the story of a twenty-year-old telephone operator in a Des Moines, Ia., suburb, led to his arrest at his home here last night. He is being held on $2,500 bail.

Last year Cissel was a soldier for Des Moines. He stepped out of uniform to play baseball for Des Moines, in the Western League. His brilliance at shortstop caught the eye of scouts and he was sent to Portland, of the Pacific Coast League for $10,000 and several players.

Mitchell's Basket Enables Keating to Win Close Game

C.P.S., After Wobbly Start, Tied Score Just Before Time and Win in Overtime

V.M.D. Too Strong For Garrison and Axioms Smothered By Redbirds

Fans who journeyed to the Centennial gymnasium last night were well thrilled by the game between the C.P.S. and Keating. In the first half the C.P.S. seemed weak and at half-time the score was C.P.S. 4, Keating 16.

On the resumption of play, however, the millmen displayed a great burst of energy, coupled with deadly marksmanship, and slowly crept up to within two points of Keating. The boys from the country tried hard to preserve their two-point lead until young Bert Woods of the C.P.S. dropped in a neat field basket to even things up 21-21, one minute before time.

The overtime period was as exciting as it was short. Styron put Keating in the lead on a foul throw but Chapman evened things up a minute later on another foul. Again Keating went in the lead and again C.P.S. evened up until Mitchell scored on about the nearest basket of the evening to give Keating the game, 25-23.

Massett refereed and the teams were: C.P.S.—Score 3, Chapman 9, Bull 7, Woods 25, Moses 2.

Keating—Mitchell 10, Styron 6, S. Bates 2, Cunningham 8, W. Bates 2, Bickford.

GARRISON ARE WEAK

The men's "C" game between the Garrison and the V.M.D. was rather tame, with the latter having things very much their own way. The final score read V.M.D. 25, Garrison 18.

Massick was top man with 12, while for the Garrison Allen and Graham each accounted for 3. Stan Jackson handled the whistle and the teams were:

V.M.D.—Essler 11, Wragge, Francis, Brinkman 2, Massick 12, Grant.

Garrison—Carrington 14, Grace 13, Morehouse, Redfern, Allen 3, Bates.

AXIOMS GO UNDER

In the only ladies' game the Redbirds more than doubled the score on the Axioms, winning 28-13. Roberta Feden registered 14 points for the Redbirds, while Ruby Bethel, who played her usual steady game, had 8 to her credit. Jack Taylor refereed and the teams were:

Redbirds—R. Feden 14, I. Foubister, E. Edwards, J. Mithiken 7, E. Wood, E. Boyce, E. Maynard 7.

Axioms—M. Edwards, I. Anderson 2, K. Forbes 2, R. Bethel 6, D. Gosse 1, B. Ross.

Three fast exhibition games will be played to-night at the Centennial gym, commencing at 7:30 sharp.

SATURDAY'S GAMES

Four games will be played at the Y.M.C.A. gym on Saturday. They will be as follows:

Intermediate "A"—High School vs. Victoria Canadian Scottish.

Men's "A"—Onwegons vs. Jordan River.

Ladies' "A"—Adanacs vs. B.C. Telephone.

Men's "A"—C.P.S. vs. Swords.

RENE'S MECHANICAL ACCOMPLICE HELPED HIM DEFEAT TILDEN

London, Nov. 10.—In preparing for his defeat, "Big Bull" Tilden last August, Rene Lacoste had a mechanical accomplice, an unique machine of his own invention, the French tennis marvel disclosed to-day.

Lacoste practiced with the London hard courts yesterday with the apparatus which fires balls across the net so rapidly that the player is kept on 'tilt.

The French tennis star's metallic training partner propels balls at four angles.

Italian Battler Knocks Out Negro

Philadelphia, Nov. 10.—Roberto Roberti, Italian heavyweight, last night knocked out Tru Jackson, negro of Washington Courthouse, Ohio, in the fourth round of a ten-round bout.

The Negro took a terrific body-punching in the first three rounds and in the fourth he was floored twice before he was finally counted out. Robert weighed 213 pounds and Jackson 195.

Ray Neuman, Jersey City, slugged Jackson in the first round, but a decision over Jack Townsend, Chicago, is a rough bout. Neuman weighed 207 Townsend 195.

SAANICH BOARD OF TRADE HOLDS ANNUAL BANQUET

Dr. D. Warnock Sketches Progress of Province; Tolmie Outlines Opportunities

Municipal and business leaders of Saanich and Victoria attended the second annual banquet of the Saanich Board of Trade last night at the West Saanich Institute Hall.

One hundred and twenty-five were seated around the banqueting board, the gathering being fully representative of Saanich and the surrounding municipalities. With President M. J. Bruce at the head table were Dr. David Warnock as representative of the Provincial Government and Dr. S. F. Tolmie, M.P.

Hon. T. G. Coventry, member for Saanich in the Legislature, proposed the toast of the Province of British Columbia, remarking that he agreed with Rt. Hon. Reginald McKenna in his recent statement that Canada will soon have over 50,000,000 people, and that this Province, with development of her resources, will attract more than her share of the newcomers.

Dr. David Warnock, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, declared that few portions of the world or the Old Country offered such opportunities. Dr. Warnock sketched success recently attained by British Columbia agricultural products in many parts of the world. "The people of this Province owe much to her farmers for invaluable publicity," he remarked, touching upon prize-winning triumphs with apples, eggs poultry and fine dairy cattle.

Dr. Warnock told of the forthcoming exhibit being prepared by the Province for the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto, to occupy 1,000 square feet of space, supplemented by a large array of livestock and a very important apple exhibit.

"We have not nearly enough sheep in this Province," he said, telling of recent importations of about 4,000 head of breeding stock. Agricultural production in 1926 had exceeded $71,000,000, being the second highest of the Province. Dr. Warnock pointed out that the development of mining in northern British Columbia has provided a splendid market for such areas as the Bulkley Valley, and the increase in the demand for rebate on stumpage powder indicates that farmers are expanding their cultivated holdings very rapidly.

Dr. Warnock sketched the development of tobacco cultivation, anticipating rapid development as appreciation of the fine qualities of British Columbia leaf are realized. He forecasted excellent opportunities, for years to come, for best pork producers in this Province. A demand for heavy horses exists and Dr. Warnock

How to Banish Piles

Dr. Leonhardt Has Discovered a Harmless Internal Remedy That's Guaranteed—No Cutting—No Messy Salves

If you think that the surgeon's knife is the only method of escape from the misery of piles it's because you haven't heard of the new and better known as Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID.

The doctor's treatment is internal. By experimenting he discovered the cause of piles and then went further and compounded a remedy that would remove the cause.

Every pile sufferer should benefit by his discovery and so that there will be no doubting or delay MacFarlane Drug Company and Vancouver Drug Company and all druggists are authorized to sell HEM-ROID with guarantee that it will do as stated or money back. On that honorable basis every pile sufferer should try Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID without delay.

forecasted a great market in the near future for agricultural type horses.

MARKET CONTROL

Touche upon the recent market control operations, Dr. Warnock said the only trouble experienced had been with potato growers, due to control of only forty per cent. of that crop. Great success, with better prices and regulated supply, had been experienced in the fruit industry, leading to Mainland requests for extension of control to berry crops. There have been some weaknesses discovered, and legislation must be sought to remedy these cases," he admitted, remarking "any man who could devise legislation to cure all the ills of agriculture would be a magician."

With witty narratives Dr. Warnock poured scorn on the independent marketer who loudly endorsed co-operation, as a means of keeping up prices, but refuses to pool his product and share the burdens involved in bettering marketing conditions.

Dr. Warnock closed by quoting the amazement of Sir Edward Kemp, who on a recent visit told the speaker: "It is almost incredible that this great

Mayor Pendray pointed out, sketching methods of financing.

"We could sell you water at cost, give you a big discount, possibly seventy-five per cent. in the first year, towards paying for those mains. We would be subject to criticism, but I believe it would be good business." We would be creating a good customer and at the same time aiding in your development, he considered, closing with assurances of co-operation by the Victoria City Council.

Introducing President Muir of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Victoria, President Bruce told of the recent convention at Vancouver of the Canadian Chambers of Commerce, as an example of the trend towards co-operation, "of which we have heard so much this evening," Mr. Muir said one of the objectives of the Junior Chamber is creation of good feeling between city and rural communities, pledging action by the Junior Chamber whenever called upon.

The toast of "the ladies" was proposed by Secretary Sladen, Mrs. MacQueen replying.

President Bruce called attention to the Rotary Ice Carnival on November 19 at the Arena in aid of the Solum. A. W. Palmer rendered a number of vocal solos between the speeches.

The meeting closed with singing of the National Anthem.

TRUSTEE QUILTS POST AS HEAD OF COMMITTEE

Trustee Horner Resents the Criticism of Supervision of Schools' Repainting

Taking strong exception to criticisms by Chairman Hobbs of his work as chairman of the works and grounds committee, Trustee Horner last night tendered to the Saanich School Board his resignation as chairman of the committee.

The criticisms complained of were stated by him to have been made at a committee meeting, at which persons not members of the board were present. The remarks in question were based on discovery that waste or loss of painting materials had taken place during the summer, when a number of the Saanich schools were being repainted.

In the absence of Trustee Robert Macneil the board suspended action on acceptance of Trustee Horner's resignation. Trustee Mrs. Beckett regretting the appearance of lack of harmony within the board.

DELEGATES REPORT

Trustee Mrs. Beckett submitted a brief report on the proceedings of the trustees convention at Harrison Hot Springs, commenting with pleasure upon addresses by Dean Coleman on development of teachers and by Miss Jean Brown on the work of the Junior Red Cross, which now has an enrolment of 10,000,000 children.

Sidney

Sidney, Nov. 10.—On Monday evening the North Saanich Social Club staged one of the finest entertainments that has been produced in this district for a number of years. The hall was crowded with a large audience, who portrayed their satisfaction by loudly applauding to each item on the programme. The feature of the evening was the three-act play entitled "The Magic Fan," which was ably performed by twenty-six of the younger members of the club.

The committee that was appointed to produce the play consider they have been amply repaid for their untiring efforts, by the pleasing manner in which the little artists acted throughout the performance. Special mention is granted to Miss A. Boshier, playing the role of "Princess Garnet," who had the misfortune last week to have her leg broken, although handicapped, Miss Boshier carried through her part very well. The duets by D. Carter and K. Lowe, the demonstration of the Lancers and the solo dance by Irene Lambert proved popular parts of the entertainment. The list of characters was as follows: "The Red Magician," Jimmy Lorenzen; "Fair Queen," Dorothy Carter; "Queen Ruella," Lillian Tuttle; "Princess Crystal," Irene Lambert; "Lady Griselda," Molly Clark; "Lady Rosine," Sylvia Gorton; "Ladies in Waiting," Glenys Jones and Winifred Topping; "Queen Pippin," Kathleen Lowe; "Princess of Persia," Nesta Carter; "King Pippin," John Lawson; "Prince Garnet," Annie Boshier; "Baron Blunderbus," George Clark; "Count Lakadai," K. Hayward; "Duke of Gologonda," T. Gorton; "Lord Gruella," A. Holmes; "Peterkin," W. Hill; "Pages," Dawn Hayward and Joan Thomas; while the little fairies were Vera Heal, Betty Thomas, Ileen Jeffery, Florence Nunn, Geraldine Tuttle, Betty Clarke and Irene Tuttle. During the intermission the following programme was given: "Little Blue Bird of My Heart," a saxophone solo by R. Bewick; recitation, "Archibald," and as an encore, Dorothy Carter gave "Never So Long as I Live," which proved quite as popular. This was followed by a sketch, "Ten Little Nigger Boys," by A. Jeffery, S. Bewick, R. Tuttle, L. Dawes, K. Tuttle, L. Sterling, T. Wilson, O. Smith, J. Gorton, C. Sansbury and "The Twins," which proved an extremely amusing number and received well merited applause. Recitations by Dora Beattie, "The Flag," by Joan Sterling and "Pat and the Preacher," by Reta Howe, were followed by a solo, "The Ivory Gate and Golden," by Jean Speedie, who gave as an encore "Little Lad of Dreams." The solo, "Come Birdie," brought by little Elizabeth Clarke, brought the programme to a close. After the performance the ladies auxiliary served a

Six Are Charged As Diamond Smugglers

New York, Nov. 10.—Five men and a woman, alleged members of a band of diamond smugglers whose operations federal investigators declare, ran into millions of dollars, were brought before United States Commissioner O'Neil here yesterday on charges of conspiracy to smuggle diamonds into the United States.

Four of the men were held in bail totaling $210,000 and the fifth man and the woman were released in the custody of a customs agent.

One of the men, Florent Lamot of Antwerp, Belgium, second electrician of the Red Star liner Lapland, was arrested as he left the ship shortly after it had docked yesterday. Federal officials told Commissioner O'Neil a search had disclosed $100,000 worth of diamonds concealed in the heels and toes of Lamot's shoes.

No Taste but Delicious Mint!

Though it is really the most effective of laxatives, "Feen-a-mint" not only looks but also tastes like a delightful gum confection—refreshing, sugar-coated, fresh-mint flavored.

There is no taste at all of the safe, sure, non-habit-forming laxative agent, phenolphthalein (yellow). But it is there—and chewing assures its thorough mixing with the saliva. Hence the mild but complete laxative action of "Feen-a-mint."

Everybody likes "Feen-a-mint," all good druggists sell it and physicians recommend it. Try it: yourself tonight or at any hour of the day when you suffer from intestinal irregularity.

(By B.C. Bond Corp. Direct Wire)

Montreal, Nov. 10.—Total transactions on the local market during the morning session amounted to only 11,033 shares and only two issues contributed more than 1,000 shares to this figure. Market appears to be in a resting period and traders are taking advantage of the situation to study the general conditions of the investment and speculative fields.

A two-point advance by Brazilian to 197 was the only important change in the public utility department. Montreal Power at 69 1/2 and Shawinigan at 84, both showed fractional declines. Stearns Preferred held firm at 83, but the common eased off to 37 1/2. Winnipeg Electric did not come out at all.

In closing trading some of the pulp and paper stocks displayed a little activity and registered noteworthy gains. Abitibi from a low of 131 1/2 at the opening rallied to 133 1/2, and closed at 133. Spanish River common advanced 1 1/2, to 132 1/2, and closed at 132. Nickel featured the specialty group with a one-point rise to 60 1/2. Canadian Industrial Alcohol solid up to 41 1/2, but closed at 41 1/2 for a net advance of 1/2.

Curbs—Although there was a marked slackening in activity on the curb this morning, trading spread out to a broad list of stocks. Prices displayed considerable irregularity, the majority of important changes being downward.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.)

Winnipeg, Nov. 10.—The wheat market was again quiet but there was sufficient buying going on to absorb the light offerings and prices held firm within a narrow range. Seaboard houses continue to absorb November wheat, while speculators take the May. The pool are moderate sellers of both months delivery, but hedging pressure from elevator companies is light which would appear to indicate that non-pool farmers are showing a holding tendency in spite of the heavy country movements.

Liverpool was steady closing lower. Broomhall reports the demand for wheat is slow with the exception of Manitoba, and the pool confirm a good foreign demand but are being credited with selling under market prices. Seaboard estimated export sales at 400,000 bushels largely Manitoba. Country marketings on Wednesday were 4,780,000 bushels as against 3,906,657 last year.

Statistics service on Western Canada crop conditions says there still remains 10% threatening to be done in Saskatchewan and 20% in Alberta. This will probably be largely coarse grains. Wheat inspections yesterday were 2,191 cars of which 1,104 graded contract.

A greater amount of acreage has been prepared for next year's crop than usual. Argentine news is having very little effect on these markets. While perhaps a little damage has been done to the Argentine report, it was insignificant. The trade are awaiting the Canadian Government report, due Friday afternoon, giving a provisional estimate of yield in grain crops and the Argentine report next Tuesday.

The United States Government report, due this afternoon, will make the market like a trading affair for the present. Winnipeg futures closed 1/4 up to unchanged.

Coarse grains—Oats, barley and rye were all strong to-day with a good cash and speculative demand in evidence. Some export business in all grains was reported but it was impossible to get any figures. Barley and rye are disappearing rapidly, while the oat crop is a short one. Oats closed 1/4 to 1/2 up, barley 1/4 to 1/2 up, and rye about 1/4 up.

Flax—This market was also strong, closing 3/4 up. There was a marked demand from Canadian and American crushers and shorts were reduced to cover.

Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.)

Winnipeg, Nov. 10.—The evening edition of The Wall Street Journal says: In a quiet market leading stocks fluctuated narrowly with alternate periods of relative strength and weakness. There was some buying of steel on the publication of the October filled tonnage statement for October which showed an increase of 192,000 tons which was larger than had been anticipated but the move did not carry far and in the afternoon trading in the issue dwindled. General Motors was fairly strong in the morning but sold off a little toward the close, traders apparently preferring to await the result of the directors meeting before taking a positive stand on either side of the market.

There was more talk about the technical position of the market than about outside trade developments and selling today seemed to be based on the theory that by its recovery the market had put itself in an impaired technical position. It was noticeable, however, that the market was not persistent enough to accomplish much more than surface effects and the inability of leading stocks to break from the trading range was a factor in the decline. The merchandising group and the tobacco shares were vigorously bid up at times during the day, the first group apparently because of the expectation of a heavy holiday trade and the tobacco shares because of rumors of extra cash or stock dividends at the year end.

The move in the tobacco group was too rapid and almost too violent to attract a general rally following. Call money was 3/4 per cent all day. No change in the Federal reserve rate. Brokers loans increased $12.324,000. General Motors declared an extra dividend $2.50 and quarterly dividend from October 1st to December 31st on old annual stock. Extra pays January third record November 10 and regular dividend December 12 record November 19.

CHAPTER XIII

Mrs. Ruggles, her eyes half starting from her head, looked first at the big envelope, held open by Detective Barlow so that all could view it, and then across at her son, but she had learned nothing from his expression. The bunchback stood with arms folded, his gaze resting alternately on Harriet and her brother, while Ned Terry bent near Barlow, the better to examine the envelope.

"It's the same one," he declared, in an awestruck voice. "The very same; see the notations on the back"—as Barlow turned the envelope completely over, thereby disclosing four lines, ending in tabulated figures.

"American Telephone and Telegraph Company, $50,000; the detective read aloud. "Washington Gas Light Company, $25,000; Liberty Bonds, $15,000; and Capital Traction Company, $10,000; total, $100,000." He looked gravely up at Terry. "Did you actually see these bonds placed in this envelope?"

"Yes," replied the lawyer. "As he removed the bonds from his safe deposit box, Commodore Whitney checked them over, and at his request, I wrote that memorandum on the back of the envelope, after he placed the bonds in it and sealed the flap." Barlow held the envelope up to the light. "Extra heavy paper, linen lined," he commented. "The slit here at the end was evidently made with care so as not to injure the contents, and with a sharp bladed instrument."

"A dagger—" The words were a mere whisper and Barlow looked around to see from whence they came; only blank stares and silence met his inquisitive gaze.

"Who spoke?" he demanded. His companions looked at each other, and then back at the red-faced detective, whose "temper" was "rubby" rising at receiving no answer to his sharply put question.

"Could the dagger have been used to open the envelope?" asked Harriet, and her voice sounded strangely loud in the silent room.

Barlow deliberately folded the envelope into such dimensions as to fit his coat pocket, slipped it inside, and rose from his crouching position before the safe, the door of which he partly closed.

"Could the dagger have been used for that purpose?" asked Harriet. "The blade was sharp enough, yes, Miss Whitney." His gaze held hers for what seemed an interminable minute to Harriet, then swept toward Terry, who had moved back from the small circle formed by his companions and was contemplating Mrs. Ruggles's bewildered and tear-wet countenance with concentrated attention. "I said I would find the motive for the crime in the reading of that will," the detective exclaimed, triumphantly. "Robbery, followed by murder."

"Why not murder, followed by robbery?" Harriet stared aghast at her brother, the words had surely been spoken by John Whitney, but his voice, harsh, discordant, was almost unrecognizable.

"John!" She crossed the room to his side. "You are overtaxing your strength; remember, this is your first day out of the hospital. You must come and lie down."

As one awaking from a dream, he looked down at her and smiled tenderly.

"All right, sis," he said submissively. "You're the boss," and with a nod to Detective Barlow he shambled by the others, his pace indicative of physical weakness.

Recovering from his surprise at their abrupt and unexpected departure, Barlow walked down the library after Harriet and her brother; he had almost caught up with them when Mrs. Ruggles pronounced his name with such emphasis, that he turned back and faced the housekeeper.

"Do you mean the bonds are really gone?" she asked, arousing from her stupefaction. "Stolen?"

"It would appear so," began Barlow, only to be interrupted by Terry. "There is another alternative," the latter suggested quietly. "Commodore Whitney might have given the bonds away."

Young Ruggles crossed the room and stopped by the housekeeper's side. "They were not given to my mother," he stated, slightly raising his voice; "if that is what you wish to infer, Mr. Terry." The bunchback's eyes blazed wrathfully at the lawyer. "And I, sir, resent the imputation."

"No more than I do," declared his mother hotly. "I left for Baltimore and twisted his features into a fearful grimace. His finger traveled up to his temple and the gray hair lying in a disordered bang across it. "Chateau Thierry!" he brushed back the hair and bent his head further around to see the deep scar generally carefully concealed. "Lord! How the burial squad jumped when I sat up!" He dropped down on a chair and laughed immoderately, weakly, then suddenly his mood changed; his eyes grew hard and crafty and he gnawed at his upper lip. Harriet—what had become of her? Was she with Ned Terry? As the idea darted through his brain, John jumped to his feet, seized his coat and fled silently from the bedroom.

Three-quarters of an hour later on the nine o'clock train and the last time I saw the Commodore alive was at Union Station. Her voice quivered with emotion; and she stopped, unable to say more.

"At what hour did you go with Commodore Whitney to the bank?" asked young Ruggles, quickly.

"I met him there at eleven o'clock," responded Terry, sitting down on the nearest chair. "I really fail to see why, Mr. Ruggles, you and your mother consider my remarks extraordinary. According to his written statement, Commodore Whitney intended to give the bonds to Mrs. Ruggles. He tipped back in his chair and regarded them both. "Did he, by chance, give them to you to hand to your mother?"

Young Ruggles turned deadly white. "He did not, sir," he thundered. "Neither she nor I had any knowledge of the bonds until the will was read this afternoon." He stopped directly in front of Terry. "Because I have a crooked back, do you dare to imply that I am a crook?"

A piercing shriek from his mother caused all three men to turn hastily toward her.

"Oh, oh!" she gasped, addressing Detective Barlow. "Stop them; don't let this scene go any further. Then, as Terry arose and approached her chair, "Must you add insult to our sense of injury?"

"My dear madam, calm yourself," he begged. "You and your son are unduly excited; otherwise you would neither of you misconstrue my simple questions." He looked across at the bunchback, and his manner was entirely courteous. "I am extremely sorry if I have said anything which gives offence; such was far from my intention."

Ruggles bowed stiffly. "Your words were perhaps not chosen with your usual thoughtfulness," he said, with ironical emphasis, and Terry flushed.

"Come, mother, you must wait rest. I am sure Mr. Barlow and Mr. Terry will excuse us."

Mrs. Ruggles rose somewhat unsteadily to her feet, and looking neither to the right nor to the left, she accompanied her son down the room. At the door Ruggles paused and looked over his shoulder. "Has it occurred to either of you, he asked, speaking somewhat loudly to make sure that the two men heard him, "that possibly Commodore Whitney took the bonds out of the envelope himself and hid them elsewhere in the house for safe keeping?"

Not waiting for any rejoinder, Ruggles half carried his mother into the hall; several times in going slowly up the staircase, she would have tripped but for his supporting arm.

"Oh, Rudy," she gasped, as they reached the door of her bedroom. "To think we had a fortune almost in our grasp!"

"Hush, mother!" and his stern tones penetrated even the hysterical woman's befogged senses. "You don't know what you are saying; keep quiet!" and he assisted her into her room with such precipitancy that she toppled over Anna, the waitress, who was stooping down to brush some crumbs into the dust pan.

"Lard hab mercy!" ejaculated the frightened servant as the brush flew out of her hand and across the room. "Miss Ruggles, ma'am, is so faint!" as the housekeeper staggered a few steps further forward and collapsed on her lounge.

Harriet put down her book and listened attentively. Surely the noise she had heard had not been made by her brother's John, stretched out on the sofa at the foot of her bed, lay with eyes closed and by his regular breathing she judged he had fallen asleep; on the other hand, however, was outside the eiderdown quilt she had thrown over him, and hung down over the edge of the sofa. Had the tapping sound been made by his knuckles inadvertently striking against the mahogany carving as he changed his position to a more comfortable one? Harriet had extremely keen hearing and it annoyed her not to be able to locate the faint noise which had twice disturbed her reading.

Rising quietly, so as not to awaken her brother, she tiptoed across the room carefully opened the hall door a trifle and poked her head outside. Standing two feet away was Rudolph Ruggles, with hand upraised.

Harriet drew back precipitously, the blood receding from her cheeks. "How ridiculous!" she exclaimed, with a catch in her breath, "but I must admit you startled me."

"I am very sorry," the bunchback spoke courtly. "I was just going to knock when you opened the door. Have you any bromide?"

"That is, Doctor McLane prescribed some for me last night, and there must be a dose or more in the bottle." Harriet looked at him in mystification. "Why?"

"My mother is hysterical and I cannot quiet her," he said simply. "I hesitated to disturb you."

"Please don't feel that way!" she exclaimed, her sympathy aroused by his evident distress. "I will gladly help you—wait!" and she spun around and across to her bedroom. It took her but a second to locate the bottle and spoon in the medicine shelf in the bathroom, and taking every precaution not to disturb her brother, she joined Ruggles in the hall. "I was a nurse's aid during the war," she explained, turning in the direction of the housekeeper's bedroom. "Perhaps I can do something for your mother."

"If you only will!" Ruggles drew a long breath and his harassed expression brightened as he accompanied her down the hall and into his mother's presence.

The door of Harriet's bedroom had hardly closed behind her and the bunchback before John Whitney opened his eyes and sat up. He remained with head cocked in a listening attitude for fully five minutes then, as no one returned, he tossed the quilt to one side and sat up. His coat was on the back of a chair, where Harriet had placed it, but before putting it on, John paused in front of the mirror over her dressing table and gazed at himself. Except in a small shaving glass he had not viewed his reflection for many months. With absorbed attention, he stared into the mirror and the pupils of his eyes glinted at sight of the haggard lines in his face; a handsome face, grown pitifully old. He raised an attenuated finger and traced the hollows under his eyes.

"That's war!" he exclaimed aloud, and twisted his features into a fearful grimace. His finger traveled up to his temple and the gray hair lying in a disordered bang across it. "Chateau Thierry!" he brushed back the hair and bent his head further around to see the deep scar generally carefully concealed. "Lord! How the burial squad jumped when I sat up!" He dropped down on a chair and laughed immoderately, weakly, then suddenly his mood changed; his eyes grew hard and crafty and he gnawed at his upper lip. Harriet—what had become of her? Was she with Ned Terry? As the idea darted through his brain, John jumped to his feet, seized his coat and fled silently from the bedroom.

"The Stars Incline, But Do Not Compel"

(Copyright)

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1927

According to astrology this is a menacing day in planetary government in which the aspects are unfavorable.

There is a forbidding sign for merchants and manufacturers who may meet with puzzling trade conditions.

Banks and bankers come under a planetary sway making for public criticism and they may be much misrepresented by the press.

Governors, mayors and all who hold positions that give power to the rule the people may expect political abuse and all who are in the least vulnerable have reason to dread exposure. Political conditions now are supposed to be subject to puzzling and perplexing influences from the stars, which frown on many human plans and ambitions.

For the President of the United States praise and gratitude are indicated, but they will cause embarrassment and even misjudgment.

Religious revivals in Protestant churches are forecast, but there may be much sectarian prejudice manifested.

Persons whose birthdate it is should be extraordinarily careful in regard to money during the coming year.

Children born on this day may be exceedingly artistic and ambitious. The subjects of this sign usually are extravagant, for they love display.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Yeast Cake

Copyright, 1927, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

(By HOWARD E. GARIS)

Nurse dame Fuzzy Wuzzey was one of those old-fashioned muskrat lady housekeepers who bake their own bread.

In these days, when so many of us get our bread at the bakery or grocery, it is rather strange to find some one who still mix up flour, water and yeast, set the "spongers" to rise near the fire at night, mix the dough the next morning and bake loaves of bread with golden brown crust in the oven.

So when Uncle Wiggily heard Nurse Jane call him one afternoon, as he was hopping away to find an adventure, that she wished he would bring her some yeast cake, the rabbit gentleman knew what was going to happen.

"Nurse Jane is going to bake bread,"

he thought.

He wished it was big like the tail of the Fox or Wolf. That is why the Bob Cat sits down so much. He wants to hide his silly tail so the other animals will not laugh at him.

But the story is about a yeast cake, not about the Bob Cat's tail, though the bad chap has a part in the adventure, as you shall see.

"But I know what I can do," whispered the Bob Cat. "I can follow Uncle Wiggily and see where he goes. And if I can follow him back through the woods and catch him in some lonely spot. That's what I'll do!"

5 Corns of long standing removed

It doesn't matter how many corns distress you nor the length of time they have plagued your feet—the corn has not been born that Radox foot baths will not remove, root and all. Read this latest Radox exploit: five long-standing corns removed easily after a few Radox foot baths. Truly, as this lady says, "Radox Bath Salts are worth their weight in gold to corn sufferers."

No corns. I removed them quite easily. I hope every sufferer from corns will get a packet of Radox, for they are worth their weight in gold to corn sufferers." (Mrs. C. April 23, 1927)

When you dip your feet into a foot bath containing Radox Bath Salts the dead skin of the corn combines with the Radox Salts to form a protein salt of the actual corn itself. This protein salt dissolves in the water and so softens the corn itself that it may be lifted out bodily. Radox does not affect the living skin, but dissolves the dead skin—the corn.

Diapiesin Keeps Appetite Young

If you have to force yourself to eat, and invariably get indigestion, sluggish headaches, and you are losing weight, excessive acidity is ruining your stomach.

This excess acid sours your food, turns it into sour bile and foul gases and you are constantly nervous and upset.

Thousands of people credit their good health and young appetite to Pape's Diapiesin. It dissolves the acids and sweetens the stomach so you can eat anything you want. That's why five million packages are sold every year. Chew one or two of the tablets after meals and you will never have indigestion or be bloated.

All drug stores have Pape's Diapiesin. Advt.
